Today 9:20 AM

From the start, we've already been told,
Our genitals are as precious as gold.
It is given so the human race can reproduce,
Thus, taking care of it should no longer be asked but are obligations imposed.

Wash your genitals or don't,
It's your actual call to say.
Be hygienic, don't be reckless,
So bacteria and infections won't stay.

I have reminded you not to ignore this away,
Regrets are most painful
When realized at the very end of the story.
Ignoring proper care of our reproductive,
Could result in a disastrous illness someday.

Erasmus Darwin Martin Priestman, 2016-02-24 While historians of science have focused significant attention on Erasmus Darwin's scientific ideas and milieu relatively little attention has been paid to Darwin as a literary writer In The Poetry of Erasmus Darwin Enlightened Spaces Romantic Times Martin Priestman situates Darwin's three major poems The Loves of the Plants 1789 The Economy of Vegetation 1791 and The Temple of Nature 1803 and Darwin himself within a large polymathic late Enlightenment network of other scientists writers thinkers and social movers and shakers Interpreting Darwin's poetry in terms of Darwin's broader sense of the poetic text as a material space he posits a significant shift from the Enlightenment's emphases on conceptual spaces to the Romantic period's emphases on historical time He shows how Darwin's poetry illuminates his stance toward all the major physical sciences and his well formulated theories of evolution and materially based psychology Priestman's study also offers the first substantial accounts of Darwin's mythological theories and their links to Enlightenment Rosicrucianism and Freemasonry and of the reading of history that emerges from the fragment poem The Progress of Society a first ever printed edition of which is included in an appendix Ultimately Priestman's book offers readers a sustained account of Darwin's polymathic Enlightenment worldview and cognate poetics in a period when texts are too often judged by their adherence to a retrospectively constructed Romanticism Kissing the Mango Tree

Atmospheres of Breathing Lenart Škof, Petri Berndtson, 2018-04-01 Attempts to think anew about philosophical questions from the perspective of breath and breathing As a physiological or biological matter breath is mostly considered to be mechanical and thoughtless By expanding on the insights of many religions and therapeutic practices which emphasize the cultivation of breath the contributors argue that breath should be understood as fundamentally and comprehensively intertwined with human life and experience Various dimensions of the respiratory world are referred to as atmospheres that encircle and connect human existence coexistence and the world Drawing from a number of traditions of breathing including from Indian and East Asian religion and philosophy the book considers breath in relation to ontological hermeneutical phenomenological ethical and aesthetic concerns in philosophy The wide ranging topics include poetry theater environmental issues and health feminism and media studies

Atmospheres of Breathing the first collection of its kind explores an emerging respiratory philosophy of great consequence for philosophy and other fields Its rich and diverse essays many written by the pioneers of this radically new direction show the deep historical and intercultural roots of such a philosophy ranging from treatments of forerunners like Zhuangzi and Heraclitus to contemporary theorists of breathing such as Abram and Kleinberg Levin Presented here is the vision of innovative ways in which philosophy on its own or inspired by spiritual practices can bring breathing into the center of its concern This is a landmark book that scintillates with brilliant and original insights If taken as seriously as it deserves this book has the potential to revolutionize contemporary and future thought

Reading Keats's Poetry Merve Günday, 2024-07-04 This book claims that Keats s poetry is a reaction against the discourse of modernity which traumatized the human subject by creating a divide between human and nature subject and object It argues that by transcending this divide and acknowledging the agency of both subject and object Keats makes an ideological statement and offers a new site of existence or relationality to readers This site also implies a response to the accusations that the Romantics were not interested in the realities of their time What Keats does is to give an aestheticized response to the hardcore facts of his time Departing from previous studies due to its emphasis on subjectivity and relationality the book discusses Keats with regard to post non anthropocentric alternative subject positions and subject object relations in his Ode to a Nightingale In drear nighted December Isabella or The Pot of Basil Lamia La Belle Dame sans Mercy and Ode on a Grecian Urn Drawing on Lacanian and Braidottian epistemologies in its discussion of the intricacy between the imaginary and the symbolic the irruption of the psychotic into the symbolic and the agency of the object on the subject in Keats s poetry the book suggests that the inner dynamics of both the subject and the object acquire agency which shatters Oneness and totality assumed in the Cartesian self

Ideology and Utopia in the Poetry of William Blake Nicholas M. Williams, 1998-04-13 Scholars have often drawn attention to William Blake s unusual sensitivity to his social context In this book Nicholas Williams situates Blake s thought historically by showing how through the decades of a long and productive career Blake consistently responded to the ideas writing and art of contemporaries Williams presents detailed readings of several of Blake s major poems alongside Rousseau s Emile Wollstonecraft s Vindication of the Rights of Woman Paine s

Rights of Man Burke's Reflections on the Revolution in France and Robert Owen's Utopian Experiments In so doing he offers revealing new insights into key Blake texts and draws attention to their inclusion of notions of social determinism theories of ideology critique and Utopian traditions Williams argues that if we are truly to understand ideology as it relates to Blake we must understand the practical situation in which the ideological Blake found himself His study is a revealing commentary on the work of one of our most challenging poets Recomposing Ecopoetics Lynn Keller,2018-01-16 In the first book devoted exclusively to the ecopoetics of the twenty first century Lynn Keller examines poetry of what she terms the self conscious Anthropocene a period in which there is widespread awareness of the scale and severity of human effects on the planet Recomposing Ecopoetics analyzes work written since the year 2000 by thirteen North American poets including Evelyn Reilly Juliana Spahr Ed Roberson and Jena Osman all of whom push the bounds of literary convention as they seek forms and language adequate to complex environmental problems Drawing as often on linguistic experimentalism as on traditional literary resources these poets respond to environments transformed by people and take nature to be a far more inclusive and culturally imbricated category than conventional nature poetry does This interdisciplinary study not only brings cutting edge work in ecocriticism to bear on a diverse archive of contemporary environmental poetry it also offers the environmental humanities new ways to understand the cultural and affective dimensions of the Anthropocene The New-York Review ,1838 The New York Review Francis Lister Hawks,Caleb Sprague Henry,Joseph Green Cogswell,1838
