Contemporary Task-Based Language Teaching in Asia Michael Thomas,Hayo Reinders,2015-02-26 Over the last decade task based approaches to language learning and teaching TBLT have become a global focus of increased levels of research Governments around the world have turned to TBLT as a potential solution for curricula that lack authentic and meaningful engagement with language learning and are failing to motivate students as a result This book focuses on Asia where this shift has been particularly in evidence TBLT has often been implemented in top down approaches to curriculum development which presents a huge range of challenges at the cultural as well as the pedagogic level Contemporary Task Based Language Teaching in Asia looks at the drivers stakeholders and obstacles across the region Some countries have adapted TBLT to deal with the local constraints others have found it hard to apply and many are still in the process of investigating its implementation in their specific contexts This collection is important to all involved in language development from curriculum reform to materials development It assists from programme evaluation to the setting of assessment standards The chapters cover all aspects of language education across Asia from primary to tertiary private and public education as well as innovations at local regional and national levels Asia's Innovation Systems in Transition Jan Vang, 2006-01-01 The success of Asian economies first Japan then Taiwan South Korea Singapore Hong Kong and more recently China and India has made it tempting to look for an Asian model of development However the strength of Asian development lies less in strategies that reproduce successful national systems of innovation and more in the capacity for institutional change to open up new development trajectories with greater emphasis on knowledge and learning The select group of contributors demonstrate that although there are important differences among Asian countries in terms of institutional set South Asian Economic Development in the Era of Global Turbulence Moazzem Hossain, Eliyathamby A. Selvanathan, Maneka Jaysinghe, Saroja Selvanathan, Rajat Kathuria, 2025-03-28 South Asia's developing nations have been enjoying moderate to high growth over the past decade before the global pandemic of 2020 began This new edition provides an up to date guide to the growing markets in South Asia in the post COVID 19 period It offers an analysis of the changes and consequences of high sustainable growth investigating what has been achieved in the region over the last 2001 2023 from a macroeconomic viewpoint identifying new challenges to 2030 and the end of the UNSDGs period Part I of the textbook presents an analysis of how South Asia is rated against Southeast and East Asia in recent decades in economic and social terms Part II focuses on South Asia's economic development over 2000 and the early 2020s It demonstrates that globalization enhanced global trade and that trade further increased the region's prosperity up to 2020 Part III identifies major governance issues that were responsible for South Asia's social and economic underperformance due to the COVID 19 pandemic This new edition includes a new chapter about AI and South Asia in the future The textbook advocates for a shift in focus from policy reform per se to the more challenging task of implementing institutional reform that will invigorate the capability of the political leadership to bring about rapid sustained and poverty reducing growth in South Asia in post Covid era The book also considers climate change and the environment and it analyses the impact of these changes and developments on the economic health and social conditions in South Asia The concluding chapter demonstrates current political unrest in three South Asian nations Sri Lanka Pakistan and Bangladesh termed the South Asian Spring Offering an analysis of the changes and consequences of high sustainable growth in South Asia this textbook will be useful for students and researchers in Development Economics Business Economics Development Studies and Asian Studies

Transformations in Higher Education Governance in Asia Darryl S. L. Jarvis, Ka Ho Mok, 2019-08-06 This book documents experimentation with various policy and governance approaches that produce structural differences in the composition and organisation of Asia's higher education systems In view of the wide variation in the public and private provision of higher education it showcases how issues of access equity and modes of participation are addressed how institutional and programme quality are managed and how academic labour is treated and developed The book both maps these differences and analyses the country level dynamics policy approaches and the problems faced by a variety of states in Asia in the race to develop competitive higher education systems Focusing on the intersection of governance and higher education policy it addresses the challenges facing higher education in Asia and the national responses of governments in terms of the organisation of the sector International Handbook on Education Development in the Asia-Pacific Wing On Lee, Phillip Brown, A. Lin Goodwin, Andy Green, 2023-11-20 The Springer International Handbook of Educational Development in Asia Pacific breaks new ground with a comprehensive fine grained and diverse perspective on research and education development throughout the Asia Pacific region In 13 sections and 127 chapters the Handbook delves into a wide spectrum of contemporary topics including educational equity and quality language education learning and human development workplace learning teacher education and professionalization higher education organisations citizenship and moral education and high performing education systems The Handbook is grounded in specific Asia Pacific contexts and scholarly traditions using unique country specific narratives for example Vietnam and Melanesia and socio cultural investigations through lenses such as language identity or colonisation while offering parallel academic discourse and analyses framed by broader policy commentary from around the world Asia: Changing the World Bertelsmann Stiftung, 2010-07-30 Asia continues to assert its status as a major force in the global economy as well as a formative influence on several key political cultural and religious issues now affecting our daily lives This collection of articles responds to the challenges posed by Asia's emergence and gives a lucid and thorough account of the most important developments in the world's largest continent and their consequences for Europe The following prominent authors have contributed their unique perspectives to this volume Jos Manuel Barroso Michael von Brück Delfin Colom Aurel Croissant John Elkington Carl Haub Paul Kennedy HansGeorg Knopp Eduard Kigel Pascal Lamy Kazuo Ogoura Demetrios G Papademetriou Amartya Sen Horst Siebert Karan Singh Jodie Thorpe and Werner Weidenfeld Innovative East Asia Shahid Yusuf, 2003 The importance of East Asia in the global economy is now unquestionable and its market expansion driven by a population of nearly 1.9 billion will strongly influence the tempo of international trade and growth of global incomes However while the region's economies have amply demonstrated their potential their future performance is by no means ensured This book offers an in depth analysis of the policy trade offs identified in the recently published Can East Asia Compete WB and OUP 2002 The major contribution of the new book to that it shows how stability can be a stepping stone to growth that is led by innovation identifies and analyzes the ingredients of an innovative economy and discusses how these ingredients mesh with government policy and market initiatives The Quest for Entrepreneurial Universities in East Asia K. Mok, 2013-12-18 With the rise of the knowledge economy universities are under pressure to embrace not just their traditional missions of teaching and research but a third mission of serving economic and social development This book examines the major strategies that governments in East Asia have adopted to promote this kind of innovation in the education sector The Performance of Asian Higher Education Gwilym Croucher, Chuanyi Wang, Jiale Yang, 2022-07-28 With contributions from several Asia Pacific countries this book compares performance and productivity in higher education from the perspective of institutional change Using multiple methods and datasets and including case studies from Australia Cambodia China Malaysia India and Japan the authors focus on shedding light on the efficacy of institutional policies and reforms The worldwide Gross Enrolment Ratio GER in higher education neared 40 per cent in 2020 due to the dramatic increase in enrolments in many developing economies especially in Asia This significant increase in the number of students in higher education brings great benefits but requires major ongoing investment by governments around the world This growth has followed waves of internationalization and marketization and universities are undergoing substantial change in their organization and character The goal of many institutional policies and reforms has been better performance and higher productivity Yet little is known about whether they have achieved this aim Students government officials and university leaders all have the right to ask whether the outcomes of higher education justify the costs of running the system Although increasing attention has been paid to higher education institutions management and operation the study of higher education performance and productivity is still in its relative infancy compared to other enterprises Written for students and scholars interested in higher education management and productivity this book will also appeal to government officials and university leaders keen to know more about institutional reform and how to achieve better performance

Business Groups in East Asia Sea-Jin Chang, 2006-03-02 The 1997 Asian Crisis principally affected Thailand Indonesia Malaysia and Korea as well as other East Asian countries heavily dependent on intra regional trade Banks and other financial institutions quickly become insolvent and heavily indebted industrial firms went bankrupt Many of these firms were affiliated with the business groups of this region yet most groups did not immediately collapse indeed they proved remarkably robust some surviving and even prospering This book examines these East Asian business groups and their subsequent restructuring following the Asian Crisis East Asian nations embarked on very different trajectories to this common external shock The Asian Crisis affected the inter relationships among the socio cultural environment the state and the market of each country quite differently and had distinct effects on the operations of these countries business groups This slow yet divergent pattern of development provides evidence against theories of rapid global convergence Yet East Asian business groups face an uncertain future Foreign investors influence has increased substantially since the crisis as East Asian governments had to accommodate their demands to keep attracting foreign capital Governments supervise banks more closely and have loosened restrictions on mergers and hostile takeovers further strengthening the discipline of the market Various entry barriers that had inhibited foreign multinationals from competing in national markets were lifted exposing business groups to intensified foreign competition Under these new conditions business groups in East Asia should reconfigure their business structures and adjust their corporate governance systems to regain momentum for further growth Business groups will continue to be important vehicles for the sustained future growth of this region and this book presents a substantial amount of new data on this which will be of interest to academics
