Schmitt, Manfred Denich, 2020-05-20 The bioeconomy concept aims to add sustainability to the production transformation and trade of biological goods Though implemented around the world the development of national bioeconomies is uneven especially in the global South where major challenges exist in Sub Saharan Africa In this context the international BiomassWeb project aimed to underpin the bioeconomy concept by applying the value web approach which seeks to uncover complex interlinked value webs instead of linear value chains The project also aimed to develop intervention options to strengthen and optimize the synergies and trade offs among different value chains The Special Issue Advances in Food and Non Food Biomass Production Processing and Use in Sub Saharan Africa Toward a Basis for a Regional Bioeconomy compiles 23 articles produced in this framework The articles are grouped in four sections the value web approach the production side processing transformation and trade and global views

Responsible Tourism Anna Spenceley, 2012-05-04 Responsible Tourism presents a wide variety of valuable lessons learned in responsible tourism initiatives in Southern Africa that many tourism practitioners can use in their efforts to make the tourism sector work for the poor and for the environment Dr Harsh Varma Director Development Assistance Department World Tourism Organization UNWTO For those interested in how tourism can assist in the economic and social development of societies in need Responsible Tourism effectively integrates scales and types of knowledge to present an informative stimulating perspective It will be on my bookshelf Steve McCool Professor Emeritus Wildland Recreation Management University of Montana Responsible tourism is one of the most significant contemporary issues for tourism scholars and practitioners alike This useful and clearly written collection of new research demonstrates the innovations in responsible tourism occurring within southern Africa and provides lessons for international research and practice Professor Christian Rogerson University of Witwatersrand South Africa Conservation efforts are often seen to be in conflict with local livelihoods and resource use the park versus people debate Responsible tourism and Ecotourism are often invoked as a third way that serve both ends Yet do they actually work in practice This volume delves deep into practice in southern Africa the hotbed of innovation on the issue and provides a comprehensive evidence based examination of what works and what fails using a wealth of information from scholars and practitioners working in the region This book opens with an overview of the issues looks at what sustainable and responsible tourism are in practice and how they may contribute to conservation poverty alleviation and local economic development Part 1 examines policies and institutional activities in responsible tourism by governments donor agencies and nongovernmental organizations and addresses the market for responsible travel Part 2 considers responsible nature based tourism the economics of wildlife tourism and ecotourism transfrontier conservation areas ecological impacts of tourism and other issues Part 3 looks at more detailed case studies of community based tourism projects and highlights the reasons for successes and failures in this sector The book concludes with a synthesis of the key findings with implications for policy destination planning business management and future private sector and donor interventions Published with the Southern African Sustainable Use Specialist Group SASUSG of IUCN

Feasibility of nationwide warehouse receipt system: An assessment of the potential for a nationwide warehouse receipt system and recommendation for the requisite legal and regulatory framework Narayanan, Sudha, Hussain, Siraj, Rashid, Shahidur, 2024-07-22 Warehouse receipts systems WRS have been used to tackle multiple challenges faced by farmers In the absence of adequate collateral and consequent credit constraints a WRS enables the use of inventory as collateral for loans thus removing a key constraint farmers face With growing digital reach electronic based Negotiable Warehouse Receipts e NWR that can be swapped exchanged and traded and can assist in deepening financial markets while maintaining the integrity of the system While e NWRS can potentially address farmer level constraints they can also be viewed from a larger policy perspective as a system that aids government plans for food security and manage public procurement operations better and more nimbly it can also play a key role for enhancing the efficiency and food quality and safety along value chains by enabling mid stream players like traders and importers to manage these chains better This report seeks to inform the policy process around e NWRS by focusing on the potential of Warehouse Receipt Financing more broadly in the agricultural development of Bangladesh To do this we review global evidence as well as evidence closer to home within South Asia to understand the pre conditions and prerequisites for a successful system

Tourism and the Millennium Development Goals Jarkko Saarinen, Christian M. Rogerson, Haretsebe Manwa, 2013-10-31 In 2000 United Nations adopted the Millennium Development Goals UN MDGs committing the member nations to a new global partnership to reduce extreme poverty and setting out a series of specific targets with a deadline of 2015 Related to the UN MDGs tourism is increasingly seen as a promising tool for poverty reduction ensuring environmental sustainability and developing a global partnership for development for example Thus the industry has become an important policy tool for community and regional development in many developing countries and the expectations for tourism and its social and economic outcomes have evolved to a high level. However, there are still many challenges to overcome in the relationship between tourism industry development and poverty reduction. This book aims to discuss the promises, challenges, and outcomes of tourism in development with a specific aim of drawing together research related to tourism and UN MDGs. The papers discuss what lessons can be learnt and conclusions drawn from the utilisation of tourism for development and poverty reduction. What emerges from this collection is a set of interesting results and notions which both support and challenge the connections between tourism and development and the new role of tourism in global development. This book is an extended version of a special issue published in Current Issues in Tourism (Chemical Abstracts, 1923) Scientific and Technical Aerospace Reports, 1994.

E-commerce and the Digital Economy Michael Shaw, 2006. Divided into four parts, this book offers a state-of-the-art survey of information systems research on electronic commerce. It provides the framework for understanding the business trends, emerging opportunities, and barriers to overcome in the rapid developments taking place in electronic business and the digital economy. (Landscape, Leisure and Tourism, Henk de Haan, 2008).

The Routledge Handbook of Tourism and the Environment Andrew Holden, David Fennell, 2012-08-21. The Routledge Handbook of Tourism and the Environment explores and critically evaluates the debates and controversies inherent to tourism's relationship with nature, especially pertinent at a time of major re-evaluation of our relationship with the environment as a consequence of the environmental problems we now face. It brings together leading specialists from a range of disciplinary backgrounds and geographical regions to provide state-of-the-art theoretical reflection and empirical research on this complex relationship and future direction. The book is divided into five interrelated sections. Section one evaluates the philosophical basis, rationale, and complexity of what is meant by the term environment, considering the major influences in the construction of how we understand our surroundings and the types of values we place upon them. Section two evaluates the types of eco-systems that are used as natural resources for tourism and the negative and positive impacts upon them. Section three evaluates relevant environmental policy and management mechanisms for the impacts of tourism on the natural environment. Section four focuses on the changing tourism environment relationship and the types of tourism that have become established in the tourism industry market and policy. Section five analyzes contemporary and future issues of the tourism environment relationship based upon themes of environmental and social welfare. This timely book will provide an invaluable resource for all those with an interest in tourism's relationship with the natural environment, encouraging dialogue across disciplinary boundaries and areas of study. The book is international in its focus, emphasizing that issues of tourism and the natural environment are not only localized but transcend national boundaries that sometimes require both international and global responses. This is essential reading for student researchers and academics of Tourism as well as those of Geography, Environmental Studies, and Development Studies.
