A Resident's Guide to Psychiatric Education M. Thompson, 2012-12-06 This is the inaugural volume of the new series Critical Issues in Psychiatry An Educational Series for Residents and Clinicians It is an appropriate beginning for this book represents a milestone in the evolution of psychiatric education For the first time there will now be a single place where one can find a comprehensive collection of educational goals and objectives to define the broad spectrum of knowledge and skills essential for general and child psychiatry This collection does not represent the bias of a single educator or program Rather it consists of a consensually validated ranking of relative importance for each educational goal and objective as determined by a large and international sampling of experienced psychiatric educators as well as an editorial board with some of the most distinguished names in psychiatric education It is even possible to tell at a glance whether the ranked level of importance is the same or different within several national groups for example Canadians vs Americans This book is intended for all students of psychiatry It is particularly valuable to residents in training but equally so for experienced clinicians preparing for Board examination or simply attending to the process of continuing education and intellectual renewal While it might well be used by an institution to delineate the dimensions of a training program in psychiatry it is intended primarily for the self evaluation and self monitoring of one's growth as a psychiatrist

Encyclopedia of Immigrant Health Sana Loue, Martha Sajatovic, 2014-06-20 There is increasing interest in the scientific literature on immigrant health and its impact on disease transmission disease prevention health promotion well being on an individual and population level health policy and the cost of managing all these issues on an individual institutional national and global level The need for accurate and up to date information is particularly acute due to the increasing numbers of immigrants and refugees worldwide as the result of natural disasters political turmoil the growing numbers of immigrants to magnet countries and the increasing costs of associated health care that are being felt by governments around the world

Format and Scope The first portion of the encyclopedia contains chapters that are approximately 25 to 40 manuscript pages in length Each overview chapter includes a list of references and suggested readings for cross referencing within the encyclopedia The opening chapters are Immigration in the Global Context Immigration Processes and Health in the U S A Brief History Alternative and Complementary Medicine Culture Specific Diagnoses Health Determinants Occupational and Environmental Health Methodological Issues in Immigrant Health Research Ethical Issues in Research with Immigrants and Refugees Ethical Issues in the Clinical Context The second portion of the book consists of alphabetical entries that relate to the health of immigrants Entries are interdisciplinary and are drawn from the following fields of study anthropology demographics history law linguistics medicine population studies psychology religion and sociology Each entry is followed by a listing of suggested readings and suggested resources and also links to related terms within the whole book

Outstanding Features The book adopts a biopsychosocial historical approach to the topics covered in the chapters and the entries Each entry includes suggested readings and suggested resources The chapters and entries are written graduate level that is accessible to all academics researchers and professionals from diverse backgrounds We consider the audience for the entries to be well educated but a non expert in this area The primary focus of the book is on the immigrant populations in and immigration to magnet countries References are made to worldwide trends and issues arising globally In addition to the comprehensive subject coverage the text also offers diverse perspectives The editors themselves reflect the multidisciplinary nature of the topics with expertise in psychiatry law epidemiology anthropology and social work Authors similarly reflect diverse disciplines
