Birchfield, 2013-10-15 Undocumented immigration across the Mediterranean and the US Mexican border is one of the most contested transatlantic public and political issues raising fundamental questions about national identity security and multiculturalism all in the glare of news media themselves undergoing dramatic transformations This interdisciplinary international volume fills a major gap in political science and communication literature on the role of news media in public debates over immigration by providing unique insider's perspectives on journalistic practices and bringing them into dialogue with scholars and immigrant rights practitioners After providing original comparative research by established and emerging international affairs and media scholars as well as grounded reflections by UN and IOM practitioners the book presents candid in depth assessments by nine leading European and North American journalists covering immigration from the frontlines ranging from the Guardian's Southern Europe editor to the immigration reporter for the Arizona Republic Their comparative reflections on the professional institutional and technological constraints shaping news stories offer unprecedented insight into the challenges and opportunities for 21st century journalism to affect public discourse and policymaking about issues critical to the future of the transatlantic space making the book relevant across a wide range of scholarship on the media's impact on public affairs

Illegal Terry Sterling, 2010-07-01 Terry Greene Sterling enters the fearful ghettos of Arizona the gateway for nearly half of the nation's undocumented immigrants and the state that is the least welcoming toward them to tell the stories of the men women and children who have crossed the border Latino Politics and Arizona's Immigration Law SB 1070 Lisa Magaña, Erik Lee, 2013-03-25 Arizona has one of the fastest growing communities of Latino immigrants in the United States In response to accusations that the Federal government was hampering the immigration enforcement actions of Arizona police state Senator Russell Pearce introduced the Support Our Law Enforcement and Safe Neighborhoods Act Better known as SB 1070 the policy allows police officers in Arizona to arrest unauthorized immigrants under the state's trespassing law. The law also gives officers the latitude to question and detain those that may appear suspicious which may simply mean that they appear Latino. Under the State's statute immigrants can also be criminalized for their mere presence in Arizona. The bill was signed into law on April 23, 2010, which generated a number of immensely complex issues at the local, national, and international level. The measure has affected an already problematic U.S.-Mexico bi-national relationship at a time of increased security cooperation between the two countries. Furthermore, former the President of Mexico has criticized the law, issuing travel advisories, and as a sanction trade between Arizona and Mexico has been reduced. Elected officials across the country called for a variety of economic boycotts and campaigns that would discourage the full implementation of the law. Over fifteen major cities have ended business contracts with Arizona. The State tourism industry has lost almost one billion dollars in less than six months as a result of this policy. This book examines a variety of issues and consequences of SB 1070 at the local, national, and international level. It provides timely research and analysis on a topic not previously examined and from a variety of interdisciplinary approaches making it of interest to political scientists and policy makers alike.
