Act 2004 Stationery Office, The, 2004 The Act is in nine parts and includes provisions to i establish a non departmental public body called the Pensions Regulator to replace OPRA This will take over responsibility for regulation of occupational pensions and specific functions of personal pensions and stakeholder pensions as well as assume new functions including referring determinations to a Pensions Regulator Tribunal ii create a new Pension Protection Fund PPF to provide compensation for members of occupational pension schemes in cases where insolvent employers leave insufficient pension funds iii introduce a new explicit Ministerial function to promote and facilitate financial retirement planning including powers to require employers to provide pension planning advice access for employees in the workplace and iv provide greater flexibility and simplicity in pension scheme administration and greater clarity in existing pensions law Pensions and Legal Policy Amanda Cooke, 2021-02-11 This book explores the historical position of pensions law in the UK and the recent influences which have led to the introduction of Auto Enrolment and subsequent reforms Alternative models such as the US and Australia are also considered as well as the function of law in bringing about political changes The question of saving for retirement is of national and international importance and many governments are wrestling with the issue of how to deal with the pension funding crisis Consequently political policy has in many cases combined with behavioural science to inform new laws which have acted to shift the burden from the state into the private sector Around the world responsibility is being moved onto individuals and employers as the state retreats from provision of state support in retirement this book offers a sophisticated analysis of the role of legal intervention to facilitate this shift The book explores the work of behavioural economics its global influence on understanding financial decision making and its application to legislation which seeks to influence consumer outcomes Drawing on qualitative empirical research to explore the experience of implementation of Auto Enrolment this timely work considers the interaction with the work of behavioural science to highlight the social costs of the new regulatory regime This title is included in Bloomsbury Professional's Pensions Law online service Pensions Imperilled Craig Berry, 2021-01-11 Private pensions provision in the UK is in crisis yet it is not the crisis often depicted in political and popular discourses While population ageing has affected traditional pensions practice the imperilment of UK pensions is due in fact to the peculiar way policy makers have responded to wider social and economic change Pensions are a mechanism for managing failed futures yet this function is being impeded by the individualization of provision This book offers a political economy perspective on the development of private pensions focusing specifically on how policy elites have sought to respond to perceived crises of demographic change under saving and fund deficits and in doing so have absorbed imperatives to subject individuals to a market led regime under the influence of neoliberal ideology This terrain is explored through chapters on the historical and comparative context of UK pensions provision the demise of collectivist provision the rise of pensions individualization and the state's role as facilitator and regulator in this regard and the financial and economic context in which pensions provision operates By placing the UK system in a comparative context of pensions reform agendas across the world this book offers an original understanding of the unique temporality and materiality of pensions provision as a set of mechanisms for coping with generational change and forecast failures in capitalist economies It also presents a nuanced account of the extent to which the state acts to anchor the process of pensions rematerialization and crucially concludes by outlining a coherent and radical programme of progressive pensions reform

Red Tape Robin Ellison, 2018-06-14 Argues that the solution to the excess of laws regulation and regulators is to change the mindset of lawmakers

Pensions Sinéad Agnew, Paul S Davies, Charles Mitchell, 2020-08-20 State pensions are the largest item in the UK social security budget costing 96.7 billion in 2017/18 In the same year 45.6 million people were members of UK occupational pension schemes out of a total population of 66.4 million and the total amount saved into workplace schemes in 2018 was 90.4 billion A consequence of the pensions sector's large size has been that pensions law and social security law have become increasingly specialised areas of practice Yet despite their social and economic importance and the fascinating legal issues they generate pensions have not been the subject of sustained academic attention This book starts to fill this gap by initiating a dialogue between practitioners and scholars working on pensions law and policy groups who have much to learn from one another This title is included in Bloomsbury Professional's Pensions Law online service

The Age of Ageing Better? Anna Dixon, 2020-06-11 Dr Anna Dixon has written a must read for anyone interested in the future of ageing Learn from one of the best informed about an issue and opportunity that is facing us all Andy Briggs Head of FTSE 100 life insurer Phoenix Group A very important book Sir Muir Gray The Age of Ageing Better takes a radically different view of what our ageing society means Dr Anna Dixon turns the misleading and depressing narrative of burden and massive extra cost of people living longer on its head and shows how our society could thrive if we started thinking differently This book shines a spotlight on how as a society we're currently failing to respond to the shifting age profile and what needs to change Examining key areas of society including health financial security where and how people live and social connections Anna Dixon presents a refreshingly optimistic vision for the future that could

Current Law Statutes Great Britain, 2000 The Parliamentary Debates (Hansard). Great Britain. Parliament. House of Lords, 2007 Legal Flexibility and the Mission of the Church Will Adam, 2016-04-22 Legal scholars and authorities generally agree that the law should be obeyed and should apply equally to all those subject to it without favour or discrimination Yet it is possible to see that in any legal system there will be situations when strict application of the law will produce undesirable results such as injustice or other consequences not intended by the law as framed In such circumstances the law may be changed but there may be broad policy reasons not to do so The allied concepts of dispensation and economy grew up in the western and eastern traditions of the Christian church as mechanisms whereby an individual or a class of people could by authority be excused from obligations under a particular law in particular circumstances without that law being changed This book uncovers and explores this neglected area of church life and law Will Adam argues that dispensing power and authority exist in various guises in the systems of different churches Codified and understood in Roman Catholic and Orthodox canon law this arouses suspicion in the Church of England and in English law in general The book demonstrates that legal flexibility can be found in English law and is integral to the law of the Church to enable the Church today better to fulfil its mission in the world Company Law Brenda Hannigan, 2024 Company Law brings clarity and sophisticated analysis to the ever changing landscape of company law Brenda Hannigan captures the dynamism of the subject places the material in context highlights its relevance and topicality and guides students through all the major areas studied at undergraduate level The book is divided into five distinct sections covering corporate structure including legal personality and constitutional issues corporate governance including directors duties and liabilities shareholders rights and remedies including powers of decision making and shareholder engagement corporate finance including share and loan capital and corporate rescue and restructuring including liabilities arising on insolvency
