House of Commons, 2010-10 The Roma and the Holocaust María Sierra, 2024-04-18 Half a million European Roma were exterminated by the Nazi regime many more were subjected to a policy of racial discrimination similar to that suffered by the Jewish people However the persecution and torment of Roma in Hitler s Europe has little presence in the history books The Roma and the Holocaust places the Roma genocide in the context of the widespread violence of the Second World War while offering an explanation that places it within a broader trajectory of anti Roma persecution in modern societies The book explores the separation and destruction of families the sterilisation of adults and children the plunder of property and deprivation of livelihoods slave labour medical experiments the horror of extermination camps and the mass murder that the Romani people were subjected to Mar a Sierra uses the first section of the book to provide a much needed critical overview and synthesis of the fragmented research and scholarship in the area that has been conducted in various languages In the second section Sierra shines a light the autobiographical accounts of several Roma survivors of the Nazi genocide in order for the voices of the victims who have claimed recognition and rights for the Roma people to be heard This journey through the memories of Philomena Franz Ceija Stojka Lily Van Angeren Otto Rosenberg Walter Winter and Ewald Hanstein in addition to other testimonies is contextualized within the framework of other Holocaust survivors memoirs and has been approached from a history of emotions perspective With the Romani people having been denied recognition as victims of Nazism after the end of the war this book crucially helps to bring about agency for the survivors supporting their struggle for the right to memory in the process Perceptions of the Holocaust in Europe and Muslim Communities Günther Jikeli, Joëlle Allouche-Benayoun, 2012-11-08 The way people think about the Holocaust is changing The particular nature of the transformation depends on people's historical perspectives and how they position themselves and their nation or community vis-à-vis the tragedy Understandably European Muslims perceive the Holocaust as less central to their history than do other Europeans Yet while the acknowledgement and commemoration of the horrors of the Holocaust are increasingly important in Europe Holocaust denial and biased views on the Holocaust are widespread in European Muslims countries of origin In this book a number of distinguished scholars and educators of various backgrounds discuss views of the Holocaust Problematic views are often influenced by a persistent attitude of Holocaust denial which is derived in part from discourses in the Muslim communities in their countries of origin The essays collected here explore the backgrounds of these perceptions and highlight positive approaches and developments Many of the contributions were written by people working in the field and reflecting on their experiences This collection also reveals that problematic views of the Holocaust are not limited to Muslim communities Annual Report of the Board of Foreign Missions of the Presbyterian Church of the United States of America Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A.
