Biology Education for Social and Sustainable Development Mijung Kim, C. H. Diong, 2012-10-20 In an era of globalization and urbanization various social economic and environmental challenges surround advances in modern biological sciences Considering how biological knowledge and practice are intrinsically related to building a sustainable relationship between nature and human society the roles of biology education need to be rethought to respond to issues and changes to life in this biocentury This book is a compilation of selected papers from the Twenty Third Biennial Conference of the Asian Association for Biology Education 2010 The title Biology Education for Social and Sustainable Development demonstrates how rethinking and reconstruction of biology education in the Asia Pacific region are increasingly grounded in deep understandings of what counts as valuable local knowledge practices culture and ideologies for national and global issues and education for sustainable development The 42 papers by eminent science educators from Australia China Philippines Singapore Taiwan and the U S represent a diversity of views understandings and practices in biology education for sustainable development from school to university in diverse education systems and social cultural settings in the Asia Pacific region and beyond The book is an invaluable resource and essential reference for researchers and educators on Asian perspectives and practices on biology education for social and sustainable development BSCS

Biology, 1997 Cognitive Support for Learning Piet A. M. Kommers, 2004 This book addresses the various aspects of computational support systems for learners nowadays It highlights in particular those learning aspects that rely heavily upon one's imagination of knowledge and new ideas The question is how learners may become more effective through the use of highly graphical computer systems that now conquer almost every desk As an extrapolation of the constructionistic paradigm learning is seen here as a process of conceptual design Witnessing the prudent introduction of CADD software Computer Aided Drafting and Design it is obvious that users are generally scrupulous to accept the computer in the ideational stages of design This book presents both existing conceptual techniques and those estimated to arrive in the few coming years lessons plans Rather it presents a framework for lesson planning shares appropriate approaches for developing student understanding and provides opportunities to reflect and apply those approaches to the five hard to teach topics Making Meaning by Making Connections Kathy L. Schuh,2016-10-20 This book documents those first links that students make between content they learn in their classrooms and their prior experiences Through six late elementary school case studies these knowledge construction links are brought to life The links of the students are often rich in describing who these individuals are where they are in their learning process and what is meaningful to them Many times these links point to what has been learned both in and out of school and the contexts when and where that learning took place The mind as rhizome metaphor was used to guide the development and interpretation of the studies while the lens of Peircian semiotics provides an interpretation for these initial links The resulting grounded theory is presented through a rich and extensive presentation of excerpts from classroom observations student interviews and a student writing activity and describes the varying types of student links how the links were prompted the relationships between what the students were learning and what they already knew and specific types of in school links The narrative includes how these links were supported or inhibited in the classroom drawing on the roles of the teachers in the classrooms and what constituted authority sources of information in those classrooms Before exploring the students linking as a process of ongoing semiosis and how this process is part of a dynamic system a study of the relationship between student knowledge links and achievement is shared This rich narrative will be of interest to scholars and practitioners alike and includes an extensive appendix documenting the research methods
