Instructor's Manual, Test Bank to Accompany James H. McMillan's Educational Research Jeffrey Oescher,James H. McMillan,Judy Singh,2000 The Marginalization of Students in Need O. Joseph Mahabir,2015-07-09 This book surveys the exclusion of students with disabilities from obtaining an appropriate education in the early history of the nation to the current time It finds that in spite of the tireless efforts of parents advocates court legislations and federal mandates students with disabilities especially minority students and second language learners still continue to be deprived of an appropriate education Research conducted in a mid sized urban school district in Southern California found that teachers recommendation of minority students and second language learners for special education referral was not in compliance with state and federal mandates Even though there was an honest effort by both federal and state governments to improve the quality of education for children with disabilities this was not occurring at the school level They still continue to be deprived of the opportunity for an education in the regular education setting and become candidates for referral to special education

Mismanagement in African Governments Dr. Alain Mortha,2016-03-31 This book emanates from the authors doctoral dissertation research that explored African government mismanagement practices by focusing on the pilot case study of Chad in Central Africa Two of Chads positions that are most bothersome and disconcerting to the author are least favorable place in the world to conduct business according to the World Bank and one of twenty countries in the world where corruption is most existent as adjudged by Transparency International Being born and raised in Chad the author was so shocked by these statistics that his chief desire in writing this book is to propose some sort of solution that may help African countries enhance the management of public resources rather than pointing a finger of blame A comparative investigation of the management practices during the autocratic regime of former president Hissein Habr and the democratic regime of current president Idriss Dby Itno was conducted This book begins with an overview of previous Chadian governments the history of corruption in Chad and a description of mismanagement practices during the regimes of Habr and Dby as revealed through research An overview of the mismanagement practices in Sub Sahara African governments also illustrates the similarities between Chad and these countries The author provides a theoretical framework used to conduct his research as well as several leadership models that he believes would be useful for African governments The book ends with the authors proposed customized Scholar Practitioner Leader SPL model based on ethics and TQM to enhance the management of public resource and a discussion about the limits of his research plus recommendations for future research The results of the study were shocking to say the least and raised questions about the viability of the Occidental democracy imposed in Africa by developed countries Will some African countries be better off with a benevolent dictatorship rather than a democratic regime Find more in the book Design and Measurement Strategies for Meaningful Learning Gómez Ramos, José Luis, Gómez-Barreto, Isabel María, 2022-04-01 Teaching content and measuring content are frequently considered separate entities when designing teaching instruction This can create a disconnect between how students are taught and how well they succeed when it comes time for assessment To heal this rift the theory of meaningful learning is a potential solution for designing effective teaching learning and assessment materials Design and Measurement Strategies for Meaningful Learning considers the best practices challenges and opportunities of instructional design as well as the theory and impact of meaningful learning It provides educators with an essential text instructing them on how to successfully design and measure the content they teach Covering a wide range of topics such as blended learning online interaction and learning assessment this reference work is ideal for teachers instructional designers curriculum developers policymakers administrators academicians researchers practitioners and students
