Incentives and Environmental Policies J.B. Opschoor,R. K. Turner,2012-12-06 This book contains a collection of papers on economic incentives and environmental policies which result from the authors joint research work in the program

Environment Science and Society conducted under the auspices of the European Science Foundation with whose cooperation the book has been published The work concentrates on the scientific and methodological aspects of the development implementation and evaluation of economic instruments at a national level The research is both theoretical and empirical At a theoretical level attention is given to the dynamics of instrument choice in various political and economic contexts and to the means for evaluating economic instruments in terms of their effectiveness and efficiency At an empirical level the research seeks to investigate the performance of economic instruments in reality and to explore options for new approaches on the interface between technology economy and the environment A subject index complements this first volume in the ESF

Environment Science and Society series The Review of Economic Performance and Social Progress Keith G.

Banting,Andrew Sharpe,France St-Hilaire,2001 The chapters in this volume provide experts views of specific dimensions of the economic social developments in Canada during the 1990s The chapters are organized into four sections dealing with basic concepts the public view of economic social trends changes in key public policies and outcomes in terms of the economic social environmental record of the 1990s Specific topics covered include the concept of social progress defining measuring social progress monetary policy the relationship between social capital the economy unemployment deficit elimination fiscal policy trade liberalization income security policy income distribution labour market outcomes child well being and economic growth environmental degradation Public Procurement and the EU Competition Rules Albert Sánchez Graells,2011-01-29 Shortlisted for the 2012 Prix Vogel in Economic Law Public procurement and competition law are both important fields of EU law and policy intimately intertwined in the creation of the internal market Hitherto their close connection has been noted but not closely examined This new work is the most comprehensive attempt to date to explain the many ways in which these fields often considered independent of one another interact and overlap in the creation of the internal market In this process of convergence between competition and public procurement law the need for this joint study is clearly apparent As such the book asks whether competition law principles inform or condition public procurement rules and whether they are adequate to ensure that competition is not distorted in markets where public procurement is particularly significant The book moves away from the classical focus of public procurement on the activities of private actors developing instead an analytical framework for the appraisal of the market behaviour of the public buyer from a competition perspective The analysis is both legal and economic Proceeding through a careful assessment of the general rules of competition and public procurement the book constantly tests the efficacy of the rules in competition and public procurement against a standard of the proper functioning of undistorted competition in the market for public procurement

Handbook of Alternative Theories of Economic Development Erik S.

Reinert, Jayati Ghosh, Rainer Kattel, 2016-09-28 The Handbook of Alternative Theories of Economic Development explores the theories and approaches which over a prolonged period of time have existed as viable alternatives to today's mainstream and neo-classical tenets. With a total of 40 specially commissioned chapters written by the foremost authorities in their respective fields, this volume represents a landmark in the field of economic development. It elucidates the richness of the alternative and sometimes misunderstood ideas which in different historical contexts have proved to be vital to the improvement of the human condition. The subject matter is approached from several complementary perspectives. From a historical angle, the Handbook charts the mercantilist and cameralist theories that emerged from the Renaissance and developed further during the Enlightenment. From a geographical angle, it includes chapters on African, Chinese, Indian, and Muslim approaches to economic development. Different schools are also explored and discussed, including nineteenth-century US development theory, Marxist, Schumpeterian, Latin American structuralism, regulation theory, and world systems theories of development. In addition, the Handbook has chapters on important events and institutions, including The League of Nations, The Havana Charter, and UNCTAD, as well as on particularly influential development economists. Contemporary topics such as the role of finance, feminism, the agrarian issue, and ecology and the environment are also covered in depth. This comprehensive Handbook offers an unrivalled review and analysis of alternative and heterodox theories of economic development. It should be read by all serious scholars, teachers, and students of development studies, and indeed anyone interested in alternatives to development orthodoxy.
