Times of Transition Sylvie Honigman, Christophe Nihan, Oded Lipschits, 2021-03-15 This multidisciplinary study takes a fresh look at Judean history and biblical literature in the late fourth and third centuries BCE In a major reappraisal of this era the contributions to this volume depict it as one in which critical changes took place Until recently the period from Alexander's conquest in 332 BCE to the early years of Seleucid domination following Antiochus III's conquest in 198 BCE was reputed to be poorly documented in material evidence and textual production buttressing the view that the era from late Persian to Hasmonean times was one of seamless continuity Biblical scholars believed that no literary activity belonged to the Hellenistic age and archaeologists were unable to refine their understanding because of a lack of secure chronological markers However recent studies are revealing this period as one of major social changes and intense literary activity Historians have shed new light on the nature of the Hellenistic empires and the relationship between the central power and local entities in ancient imperial settings and the redating of several biblical texts to the third century BCE challenges the traditional periodization of Judean history Bringing together Hellenistic history the archaeology of Judea and biblical studies this volume appraises the early Hellenistic period anew as a time of great transition and change and situates Judea within its broader regional and transregional imperial contexts The fruits of Bohemia Will Harvey, 2015-05-15

Sheridan Banner has a remarkable gift a gift of perception to rival all who have preceded him However his unique abilities are perceived by others as little more than an irritation until one day an abrupt stranger happens to call the stranger's name is Mark Watson His father has disappeared along with eighteen other people Amongst these eighteen people is Sheridan's natural father who he has never met Sheridan is unaware that he holds part of the key to finding them The Tomb of Parennefer, Butler of Pharaoh Akhenaten Susan Redford, 2022-10-11 Theban Tomb 188 is the sole archaeological site in the ancient Theban necropolis securely dated to the reign of the heretic pharaoh Akhenaten 1353-1336 BCE The result of several years of clearance and recording by Dr Susan Redford director of the Akhenaten Temple Project's Theban Tomb Survey this richly illustrated book provides a detailed description of the remaining wall scenes and texts of this historically important ancient monument In the fourteenth century BCE Pharaoh Akhenaten attempted to institute a radical religious reform and moved his capital city to Amarna This book publishes important evidence related to the Amarna period in ancient Egypt specifically the plans reliefs and inscriptions of Theban Tomb 188 belonging to Parennefer the tutor and butler of the king Dr Redford's detailed archaeological study traces the rapid evolution of ideology iconography and iconoclasm as revealed in Parennefer's tomb The decoration kept pace with the momentous changes in the king's thinking so that when dovetailed with the pictorial evidence from the excavations of the great Gempaaten temple at Karnak it becomes possible to chronicle these rapid changes This definitive study of the tomb of Parennefer will appeal to archaeologists Egyptologists historians of religion and art historians working on the ancient Near East The Diocese of Carlisle, 1814-1855 Church of England. Diocese of Carlisle, 2015 The notebooks of bishops of Carlisle reveal a wealth of detail concerning clerical life at the time The volume presents three nineteenth century manuscripts originally created for the use of bishops of Carlisle Walter Fletcher's Diocesan Book written between 1814 and 1845 and Bishop Hugh Percy's two parish notebooks compiled between 1828 and 1855 Based on visitations and on articles of enquiry now lost they add to a growing body of knowledge relating to the condition of the Church in the first half of the nineteenth century providing a unique record of livings in the Carlisle diocese prior to its expansion in 1856 In particular they illuminate the concerns of two significant clerical figures In 1814 the newly installed chancellor Walter Fletcher set about recording his primary visitation updating his notes frequently until the year before his death in 1846 In 1828 the newly consecrated bishop Hugh Percy created his own diocesan record utilising Fletcher's material while adding matter of his own The popularity of Anglican ritualism since the advent of Tractarianism has made it commonplace for the Georgian Church to be viewed with a certain amount of disdain The notebooks allow us a more objective view of the period Fletcher's notes on the 130 churches he visited are particularly valuable in presenting a diligent hard working clergyman loyal to the Tory high church traditions into which he had been born with a vision for the diocese which above all was one of orderliness and obedience to canon law The documents are presented here with introduction and notes Dr Jane Platt is an honorary researcher in history at Lancaster University Forced Migration and Separated Families Marja Tiilikainen,Johanna Hiitola,Abdirashid A. Ismail,Jaana Palander,2023-03-15 This open access book examines the impacts and experiences of family separation on forced migrants and their transnational families On the one hand it investigates how people with a forced migration background in Europe the Middle East and Latin America experience separation from their families and on the other how family and kin in the countries of origin or transit are impacted by the often precarious circumstances of their family members in receiving countries In particular this book provides new knowledge on the nexus between transnational family separation forced migration and everyday in security Additionally it yields comparative information for assessing the impacts of relevant legislation and administrative practice in a number of national contexts Based on rich empirical data including unique cases about South South migration the findings in this book are highly relevant to academics in migration and refugee studies as well as policy makers legislators and practitioners

Ways of Residing in Transformation Dr Mervi Ilmonen,Professor Eli Støa,Professor Katrin Paadam,Professor Sten Gromark,2015-12-28 Profound transformations in residential practices are emerging in Europe as well as throughout the urban world They can be observed in the unfolding diversity of residential architecture and spatially restructured cities The complexity of urban and societal processes behind these changes requires new research approaches in order to fully grasp the significant changes in citizens lifestyles their residential preferences capacities and future opportunities for implementing resilient residential practices The international case studies in this book examine why ways of residing have changed as well as the meaning and the significance of the social economic political cultural and symbolic contexts The volume brings together an interdisciplinary range of perspectives to reflect specifically upon the dynamic exchange between evolving ways of residing and professional practices in the fields of architecture and design planning policy making facilities management property and market In doing so it provides a resourceful basis for further inquiries seeking an understanding of ways of residing in transformation as a reflection of diversifying residential cultures This book will offer insights of interest to academics policy makers and professionals as well as students of urban studies sociology architecture housing planning business and economics engineering and facilities management Politics and Technology in the Post-Truth Era Anna

Visvizi,Miltiadis D. Lytras,2019-05-07 This book examines the relationship between information and communication technology ICT and politics in a global perspective Slow Cities Paul Tranter,Rodney Tolley,2020-06-18 Slow Cities Conquering Our Speed Addiction for Health and Sustainability demonstrates counterintuitively that reducing the speed of travel within cities saves time for residents and creates more sustainable liveable prosperous and healthy environments This book examines the ways individuals and societies became dependent on transport modes that required investment in speed Using research from multiple disciplinary perspectives the book demonstrates ways in which human economic and environmental health are improved with a slowing of city transport It identifies effective methods strategies and policies for decreasing the speed of motorised traffic and encouraging a modal shift to walking cycling and public transport This book also offers a holistic assessment of the impact of speed on daily behaviours and life choices and shows how a move to slow down will perhaps surprisingly increase accessibility to the city services and activities that support healthy sustainable lives and cities Includes cases from cities in North and South America Europe Asia Africa and Australasia Uses evidence based research to support arguments about the benefits of slowing city transport Adopts a broad view of health including the health of individuals neighbourhoods and communities as well as economic health and environmental health Includes text boxes diagrams and photos illustrating the slowing of transport in cities throughout the world and a list of references including both academic sources and valuable websites

The Pharaoh's Daughter Mesu Andrews,2015-03-17 The first book in the Treasures of the Nile series Anippe has grown up in the shadows of Egypt's good god Pharaoh aware that Anubis god of the afterlife may take her or her siblings at any moment She watched him snatch her mother and infant brother during childbirth a moment which awakens in her a terrible dread of ever bearing a child When she learns that she is to become the bride of Sebak a kind but quick tempered Captain of Pharaoh Tut's army Anippe launches a series of deceptions with the help of the Hebrew midwives women ordered by Tut to drown the sons of their own people in the Nile in order to provide Sebak the heir he deserves and yet protect herself from the underworld gods When she finds a baby floating in a basket on the great river Anippe believes Egypt's gods have answered her pleas entrenching her more deeply in deception and placing her and her son Mehy whom handmaiden Miriam calls Moses in mortal danger As bloodshed and savage politics shift the balance of power in Egypt the gods reveal their fickle natures and Anippe wonders if her son a boy of Hebrew blood could one day become king Or does the god of her Hebrew servants the one they call El Shaddai have a different plan for them all

Orthodox Revivalism in Russia Milena Benovska,2020-10-12 Orthodoxy has achieved a large scale revival in Russia following the collapse of Communism However paradoxically although there is a high level of identification with Orthodoxy there is in fact a low level of church attendance This book based on in depth ethnographic fieldwork explores the social background and moral attitudes of the little flock of believers who actively participate in religious life It reveals that the complex moral beliefs of the faithful have a disproportionately high impact on Russian society overall that among the faithful there is a strong emphasis on striving for personal perfection but that also there are strong collective ideas concerning religious nationalism and the synergy between the secular and the religious
