Lázaro, Catherine O'Leary, 2011-07-12 This volume brings together twelve essays which explore European censorship of English literature in the last century Taking into consideration the various social political and historical contexts in which literary controls were imposed and the extent to which they were determined by national and international concerns these essays comment on political and moral censorship self censorship and the role of the translator as censor Besides systematic state control other hidden and insidious forms of censorship are also surveyed in the essays This study considers why certain works and authors many of them now regarded as canonical were targeted in various states and often under opposing ideologies such as those dominated by conservative Catholic morality and those governed by communism or socialism The essays contain previously unpublished material cover a wide range of authors including Beckett Eliot Joyce and Orwell and analyse diverse censorship systems operating across Europe thus serving as a useful comparative resource Despite the variety of structures of suppression the study shows that certain common practices can be discerned across national borders and that general conclusions can be drawn about the complex and ambiguous nature of the state's relationship with culture and about the immediate and long term impact of censorship not only on the author and publisher but on society as a whole Finally the essays are also significant for what they tell us about the survival of literature despite the best efforts of the censors

A Note in Music Rosamond Lehmann, 1982-02-15 Grace Fairfax lives with her dull conventional husband Tom in a grey manufacturing town in the north of England At thirty four she finds that her external life of dreary routine fails to match up to her lush wistful and dreamy internal life Norah her energetic and chaotic friend is equally settled in her own marriage to an irritable university professor Then Hugh Miller and his sister Claire descend upon the quiet town On all four the hypnotic charm of these two visitors exerts an enchanting spell And after their departure life having been violently disrupted will never be quite the same again

Life Beyond Death David Fontana, 2016-07-19 A psychologist seeks to answer your burning questions about what happens after death from afterlife communication and human consciousness to out of body and near death experiences Most people in the world believe in some form of life after death but what exactly is the nature of the afterlife David Fontana examines all the extensive evidential material that has been accumulated over time including communication through mediums and accounts from those who had near death and out of body experiences and compares them to descriptions found in such mystical texts as The Tibetan Book of the Dead and The Egyptian Book of the Dead He explores the whole area of human consciousness and considers the question if the body and the brain perish at death what remains to survive From the various ideas of paradise to the very meaning of existence this is a journey through infinite possibilities

Tales From the Afterlife Fiona Bowie,2011-03-16 Tales From the Afterlife takes the reader on an imaginative journey through death to the life that awaits us all on the other side Our beliefs thoughts and expectations have a powerful influence on the ease with which we make that transition although help and guidance is always on hand The ten scenarios presented here present a coherent and remarkably consistent picture of the non physical world The result is a powerful affirmation that consciousness survives the death of the physical body and that the meaning and purpose of life is to grow in love The Poison at the Source P. Brown,1992-03-10 An examination of a number of English women novelists who portrayed the crises and conflicts in the development of the female consciousness as a response to the anomalies of the rapidly changing world of the early twentieth century when opportunities for self expression and fulfilment were beginning to open up for women but nineteenth century values and prejudices still widely prevailed May Sinclair Radclyffe Hall Rosamond Lehmann Antonia White and Dorothy Richardson are seen as outspoken and innovative writers often marginalised or ignored by serious criticism Living in Time Albert Gelpi,1998 Albert Gelpi explores in three expansive sections the major periods of the poet's development beginning with the emergence of Day Lewis in the thirties as the most radical of the Oxford poets An artist who sought through poetry a way of living in time without traditional religious assurances Day Lewis went further than his friends in seeking to forge a revolutionary poetry out of his commitment to Marxism When Stalinism led to his resignation from the Communist Party Day Lewis in the forties went on to shape a rich fiercely perceptive poetry out of the convergence of the wartime crisis with the explosive events of his own inner life intensified by the erotics of a decade long affair The Love-charm of Bombs Lara Feigel,2013-07-09 A portrait of World War II era London by five literary volunteers documents their experiences as ambulance drivers firefighters and other civilian aids through the course of a single night in September 1940 20 000 first printing Rosamond Lehmann Ruth Siegel,1989 Rosamond Lehmann the British novelist was born 1901 into the privileged upper middle class life of Edwardian England but came of age during the disillusioned years between the two world wars Intellectual discerning and poetic she was very much part of the Oxbridge trained generation of Auden Isherwood and Spender But her distinct point of view offered a feminine counterpart to their perceptions and made hers one of the outstanding female fictional voices of the time This study reintroduces Rosamond Lehmann to American readers exploring her life her novels and the social and psychological insights she found in her search for enduring values during a time of ferment Literature as History Simon Barker, Jo Gill, 2010-01-26 New essays by a range of leading theorists on the interdisciplinary study of literature and history John Galsworthy's Life and Art James Gindin, 2015-12-22

Quinn, 1996 The aim of Recharting the Thirties is to revitalize the awareness of the reading public with regard to eighteen writers whose books have been largely ignored by publishers and scholars since their major works first appeared in the thirties The selection is not based on a political agenda but encompasses a wide and divergent range of philosophies clearly the contrasts between Empson and Upward or between Powell and Slater indicated the wide ranging vision of the period Women writers of the period have largely been marginalized and the writings of Sackville West and Burdekin for example not only present distinct feminine voices of the period but also illuminate how much good literature has been forgotten Odd women? Emma Liggins, 2016-05-16 This genealogy of the odd woman compares representations of spinsters lesbians and widows in British women s fiction and auto biography from the 1850s to the 1930s Women outside heterosexual marriage in this period were seen as abnormal superfluous incomplete and threatening yet were also hailed as women of the future Before 1850 odd women were marginalised minor characters in British women s fiction yet by the 1930s spinsters lesbians and widows had become heroines This book examines how women writers including Charlotte Bront Elisabeth Gaskell Ella Hepworth Dixon May
