How Shanghai Does It Xiaoyan Liang,Huma Kidwai,Minxuan Zhang,Yinan Zhang,2016-04-08 The Shanghai basic education system has garnered significant attention since its extraordinary performance in the 2009 and 2012 Programme for International Student Assessment PISA a global assessment of 15 year olds educational abilities Among the 65 participating economies in 2012 Shanghai China ranked first on all three major domains of PISA i e mathematics reading and science Shanghai also stands out for having the world s highest percentage of resilient students students from socio economically disadvantaged backgrounds who emerge as top performers Shanghai s PISA story has generated intense discussions and diverse speculations in field of international educational development and numerous studies have been done in the attempt to unravel the mystery Missing from the picture however is a more comprehensive systematic in depth and objective rendition of the policies and practices of Shanghai basic education benchmarked against others in key dimensions This report presents an in depth examination of how Shanghai scored highest in the areas of reading science and mathematics on PISA It documents and benchmarks key policies in basic Shanghai education provides evidence on the extent to which these policies have been implemented in schools and explores how these policies have affected learning outcomes The report uses PISA 2012 data to analyze Shanghai student achievement variation and to examine the extent school variables may be associated with the variation beyond family and student background. It also uses the World Bank's Systems Approach for Better Education Results (SABER), an existing systems diagnostic and benchmarking tool, as an organizing framework and for data collection. School-based surveys and other existing research shed further light on educational impact and implementation. While the report attempts to adopt a systems approach, particular emphasis is placed on teachers' education, financing, balancing autonomy and accountability, and student assessment.

Interest in Mathematics and Science Learning Ann Renninger, Martina Nieswandt, Suzanne Hidi, 2015-04-19. Interest in Mathematics and Science Learning, edited by K. Ann Renninger, Martin Nieswandt, and Suzanne Hidi, is the first volume to assemble findings on the role of interest in mathematics and science learning. As the contributors illuminate across the volume's 22 chapters, interest provides a critical bridge between cognition and affect in learning and development. This volume will be useful to educators, researchers, and policy makers, especially those whose focus is mathematics, science, and technology education.

Creating Stellar Lessons with Digital Tools Kenneth J. Luterbach, 2022-05-12. Creating Stellar Lessons with Digital Tools prepares teachers in training and in-service teachers to use technologies for design and development activities with middle and high school students. While software, open resources, handheld devices, and other tools hold great potential to enhance learning experiences, teachers themselves must model technology use in ways that inspire students to become producers and leaders rather than consumers and followers. Featuring concrete applications in social studies, English, mathematics, and science scenarios, this book provides pre-service and in-service teachers with seven paths to creatively integrate and innovate with computational thinking, datasets, maker spaces, visual design, media editing, and other approaches.
