Northern Archaeology and Cosmology Vesa-Pekka Herva, Antti Lahelma, 2019-06-28 In its analysis of the archaeologies and histories of the northern fringe of Europe this book provides a focus on animistic shamanistic cosmologies and the associated human environment relations from the Neolithic to modern times The North has fascinated Europeans throughout history as an enchanted world of natural and supernatural marvels a land of light and dark of northern lights and the midnight sun of witches and magic and of riches ranging from amber to oil Northern lands conflate fantasies and realities Rich archaeological historical ethnographic and folkloric materials combine in this book with cutting edge theoretical perspectives drawn from relational ontologies and epistemologies producing a fresh approach to the prehistory and history of a region that is pivotal to understanding Europe wide processes such as Neolithization and modernization This book examines the mythical and actual northern worlds with northern relational modes of perceiving and engaging with the world on the one hand and the place of the North in European culture on the other This book is an indispensable read for scholars of archaeology anthropology cultural studies and folklore in northern Europe as well as researchers interested in how the North is intertwined with developments in the broader European and Eurasian world It provides a deep time understanding of globally topical issues and conflicting interests as expressed by debates and controversies around Arctic resources nature preservation and indigenous rights

The Ending of Tribal Wars Jürg Helbling, Tobias Schwoerer, 2021-03-24 All over the world and throughout millennia states have attempted to subjugate control and dominate non state populations and to end their wars This book compares such processes of pacification leading to the end of tribal warfare in seven societies from all over the world between the 19th and 21st centuries It shows that pacification cannot be understood solely as a unilateral imposition of state control but needs to be approached as the result of specific interactions between state actors and non state local groups Indigenous groups usually had options in deciding between accepting and resisting state control State actors often had to make concessions or form alliances with indigenous groups in order to pursue their goals Incentives given to local groups sometimes played a more important role in ending warfare than repression In this way indigenous groups in interaction with state actors strongly shaped the character of the process of pacification This volume's comparison finds that pacification is more successful and more durable where state actors mainly focus on selective incentives for local groups to renounce warfare offer protection and only as a last resort use moderate repression combined with the quick establishment of effective institutions for peaceful conflict settlement
