Thus Until Emilia Ilieva,Reuben Matheka,2025-08-04 Thus Until A History of Egerton University is a thorough historical chronological and well researched account of Egerton University from a whites only college when it started in 1939 through to the expansion it has experienced over the years culminating in being a full university More than any other university in Kenya Egerton has a long and colourful history but like all the other universities it has suffered from the political economic and financial challenges of the time especially since the double intake of the 1990s Chapter One provides the required background to the study highlighting agricultural and educational policies and steering away from the Happy Valley hype so characteristic of the period The reader will learn about the Egerton family in Chapter Two and particularly about Lord Egerton himself and the colonial circumstances within which he lived The chapter dispels some of the popularly held myths about him Chapter Three deals with the beginnings of the college and the various structural and curriculum experiments tried out and the kind of enrolment and students it experimented with as an all white establishment The chapter ends with Africans beginning to agitate for change With great attention to detail the later chapters put the university in a broader local and international context thereby increasing its relevance to society A History of Egerton University though heavily footnoted and with a detailed bibliography is written in a simple easy flowing and accessible style Religions in Eastern Africa

Translating Transgressive Texts Pauline Henry-Tierney,2023-12-22 Through close examination of references to gender identity female sexuality and corporeality this book is the first of its kind to shed light on the complexities of translating the recent transgressive turn in contemporary women s writing in French Via four case studies namely the translations into English of Nelly Arcan s Putain 2001 Catherine Millet s La Vie sexuelle de Catherine M 2001 Nancy Huston s Infrarouge 2010 and Nina Bouraoui s Gar on manqu 2000 this book explores how transgressive topoi such as prostitution anorexia matrophobia rape female desire and transgenderism are translated The book considers how auto fictional female selves portrayed are dis placed by translation at both a textual and paratextual level Combining feminist phenomenological perspectives on female lived experience with feminist translation theory this interdisciplinary study offers an insight into how the experiential is brought into language how it journeys via language into new cultural contexts via translation and creates a dialogical space in which the subjectivities of those involved author narrator protagonist translator become open to the porosity of encounters with alterity The volume will appeal to scholars in translation studies French Studies and gender and sexuality studies particularly those interested in feminist translation and literary translation

Selling the Story Jonathan Paine,2019-08-06 A literary scholar and investment banker applies economic criticism to canonical novels dramatically changing the way we read these classics and proposing a new model for how economics can inform literary analysis Every writer is a player in the marketplace for literature Jonathan Paine locates the economics ingrained within the stories themselves revealing how a text provides a record of its author s attempt to sell the story to his or her readers An unusual literary scholar with a background in finance Paine mines stories for evidence of the conditions of their production Through his wholly original reading Balzac s The Splendors and Miseries of Courtesans becomes a secret diary of its author s struggles to cope with the commercializing influence of serial publication in newspapers The Brothers Karamazov transforms into a story of Dostoevsky s sequential bets with his readers present and future about how to write a novel Zola s Money documents the rise of big business and is itself a product of Zola s own big business his factory of novels Combining close readings with detailed analyses of the nineteenth century publishing contexts in which prose fiction first became a product Selling the Story shows how the business of literature affects even literary devices such as genre plot and repetition Paine argues that no book can be properly understood without reference to its point of sale the author's knowledge of the market of reader expectations and of his or her own efforts to define and achieve literary value Reflections on Education in East Africa Sorobea Nyachio Bogonko, 1992 Kenya Telephone Directory, 1998 Methodology of the Oppressed Chela Sandoval, 2013-11-30 In a work with far reaching implications Chela Sandoval does no less than revise the genealogy of theory over the past thirty years inserting what she terms U S Third World feminism into the narrative in a way that thoroughly alters our perspective on contemporary culture and subjectivity What Sandoval has identified is a language a rhetoric of resistance to postmodern cultural conditions U S liberation movements of the post World War II era generated specific modes of oppositional consciousness Out of these emerged a new activity of consciousness and language Sandoval calls the methodology of the oppressed This methodology born of the strains of the cultural and identity struggles that currently mark global exchange holds out the possibility of a new historical moment a new citizen subject and a new form of alliance consciousness and politics Utilizing semiotics and U S Third World feminist criticism Sandoval demonstrates how this methodology mobilizes love as a category of critical analysis Rendering this approach in all its specifics Methodology of the Oppressed gives rise to an alternative mode of criticism opening new perspectives on any theoretical literary aesthetic social movement or psychic expression Annals of the Association of Social Anthropologists and Directory of Members Association of Social Anthropologists of the Commonwealth, 1995 The American archivist Society of American Archivists, 1993 Includes sections Reviews of books and Abstracts of archive publications The Private Correspondence of David Garrick with the Most Celebrated Persons of his Time, 2013 David Garrick 1717-79 is synonymous with the golden age of English theatre Widely acclaimed as an actor he went on to become a shrewd theatre manager at Drury Lane His years in charge of the Theatre Royal ensured its dramatic ascendancy and burnished his own considerable celebrity These letters first published in 1831 reveal Garrick's gregarious nature and shed light on his many friendships with leading ladies fellow actors contemporary playwrights and members of high society His love of Shakespeare's work is also evident highlighting Garrick's pivotal role in ensuring the plays became established in the national consciousness This two volume collection was edited by James Boaden 1762-1839 who published several theatrical biographies also reissued in this series Volume 2 contains letters from the final years of Garrick's life notably his correspondence in French with influential figures in Parisian theatre The Widening Circle Paul J. Korshin, 2016-11-11 Three distinguished authorities offer informed reflections on the history of books on literary commerce and on the reading public in eighteenth century England France and Germany Concerned with an area of study that has gone largely unexplored the social function of the book trade and the various agencies of distribution Robert Darnton Roy M Wiles and Bernhard Fabian lay the groundwork for the intellectual social and literary historian as well as the student of political revolutions Robert Darnton's rich account of a clandestine book dealer expands our knowledge of the actual habits of eighteenth century Frenchmen We learn about the livres philosophiques as they were known in the trade obscene irreligious or seditious works about the intricate circuit of agents linking publisher and bookdealer and about a confidence game often surviving on sheer bravura Darnton not only gives us a general sense of the literary tastes in a small provincial city in France on the eve of the Revolution but also opens the way toward an understanding of the country's entire literary underground The late Roy M Wiles investigates the principal readership in eighteenth century England and demonstrates that intellectual activities were not confined to polite society in London Employing new often untouched materials newspaper circulation and delivery figures book lists and advertisements in London and local papers subscription books in provincial towns and cities Wiles helps dispel some of the uncertainty surrounding the question of literacy and shows that in fact what the provincial readers chose to read more accurately registers the eighteenth century's relish for reading than those books considered by Londoners as required reading Bernhard Fabian explores the sources that permit us to assess the circulation of English letters in Germany during the second half of the eighteenth century By considering the kind of information obtained from subscription lists by studying the relation of English literature to the general reader of the period and by examining the emergence of a reading public that actually read English Fabian helps delineate a broad view of the contemporary reading scene in eighteenth century Germany
