OPERATION MILLPOND: U.S. Marines In Thailand, 1961 [Illustrated Edition] Colonel George R. Hofmann Jr.

USMC,2015-11-06 Includes over 15 illustrations This operation highlights the role that the small country of Laos played in the foreign policy calculations of the newly elected U S president John F Kennedy Gravelly concerned that the Laotian government was in danger of being overwhelmed by a growing Communist insurgency known as the Pathet Lao President Kennedy took the bold step of deploying Marine Air Base Squadron 16 MABS 16 to nearby Thailand for the purpose of supporting a collection of helicopters piloted by an organization called Air America Hollywood later made a movie about Air America and it is now widely known that it was linked to the Central Intelligence Agency The Marines of MABS 16 received no such fanfare Working behind the scenes in austere conditions MABS 16 gave new meaning to the phrase in any clime and place While Operation Millpond may seem like a small thing in comparison with much larger operations that were soon to be conducted by Marines in the Republic of South Vietnam it nonetheless represents a clear beginning to a growing U S military commitment to the region as a whole one that did not end until the last Marine left the roof of the American embassy in Saigon in 1975

Moral Imperative Darrel Whitcomb,2020-12-13 In 1972 America was completing its withdrawal from the long and divisive war in Vietnam Air power covered the departure of ground forces and search and rescue teams from all services and Air America covered the airmen and soldiers still in the fight Day and night these military and civilian aircrews stood alert to respond to Mayday calls The rescue forces were the answer to every man s prayer and those forces brought home airmen sailors marines and soldiers downed or trapped across the breadth and depth of the entire Southeast Asia theater Moral Imperative relies on a trove of declassified documents and unit histories to tell their tales Focusing on 1972 Darrel Whitcomb combines stories of soldiers cut off from their units advisors trapped with allied forces and airmen downed deep in enemy territory with the narratives of the US Air Force Army Navy Marines contract pilots and special operations teams ready to conduct rescues in Laos Cambodia North Vietnam and South Vietnam All of these missions occur against the backdrop of our withdrawal from the war and our diplomatic efforts to achieve a lasting peace In detail Whitcomb shows how American rescue forces supported the military response to the North Vietnamese s massive three pronged invasion of South Vietnam America s subsequent interdiction operations against North Vietnam and ultimately the strategic bombing of Linebacker II

U.S. Marine Operations In Korea 1950-1953: Volume II - The Inchon-Seoul Operation [Illustrated Edition] Lynn Montross,Captain Nicholas A. Canzona USMC,2015-11-06 Includes over 50 photos and 25 maps THIS IS THE second volume of a series dealing with United States Marine Operations in Korea during the period 2 August 1950 to 27 July 1953 Volume II presents in detail the operations of the 1st Marine Division and the 1st Marine Aircraft Wing as a part of X Corps USA during and immediately following the Inchon Landing on 15 September 1950 In order to tell a complete story of this historic amphibious operation the authors have described the mobilization of the Marine Corps reserves to form the components of the Division and Aircraft Wing the movement to the staging area and the hurried planning for an amphibious landing the withdrawal of the 1st Provisional Brigade and Marine Air Group 33 from the embattled Pusan Perimeter to amalgamate with the larger force for D day at Inchon the seizure of Seoul and its environs and finally the withdrawal on 7 October to prepare for the Wonsan operation THE INCHON LANDING was a major amphibious operation planned in record time and executed with skill and precision Even more it was an exemplification of the fruits of a bold strategy executed by a competent force The decision to attack at Inchon involved weakening the line against enemy strength in the Pusan Perimeter in order to strike him in the rear It involved the conduct of an amphibious attack under most difficult conditions of weather and geography The stakes were high and the risk was fully justified Had it not been for the intervention of the Chinese Communist Army the offensive generated by the Inchon attack would have resulted in a complete victory for our arms in Korea A study of the record of this operation will disclose with arresting clarity the decisive power that is to be found in highly trained amphibious forces when their strength is applied at the critical place and time Gen Lemuel Shepherd
