It covers a full range of introductory topics including current trends in measurement and evaluation, program development, statistics, test selection, and an expanded chapter on alternative assessment before introducing measurement for health-related physical fitness, measurement for psychomotor skills, measurement for cognitive knowledge, measurement for affective behaviors, grading, self-evaluation. Super Courses Ken Bain, 2021-03-09 An exploration of some of the most intriguing college teachers' pedagogy challenging traditional learning environments. Slow Burn R. Jisung Park, 2025-07-29 How the subtle but significant consequences of a hotter planet have already begun, from lower test scores to higher crime rates, and how we might tackle them today. It's hard not to feel anxious about the problem of climate change, especially if we think of it as an impending planetary catastrophe. In Slow Burn, R. Jisung Park encourages us to view climate change through a different lens, one that focuses less on the possibility of mass climate extinction in a theoretical future and more on the everyday implications of climate change here and now. Drawing on a wealth of new data and cutting-edge economics, Park shows how climate change headlines often miss some of the most important costs. When wildfires blaze, what happens to people downwind of the smoke? When natural disasters destroy buildings and bridges, what happens to educational outcomes? Park explains how climate change operates as the silent accumulation of a thousand tiny conflagrations imperceptibly elevated. Health risks spread across billions of people, pennies off the dollar of productivity, fewer opportunities for upward mobility. By investigating how the physical phenomenon of climate change interacts with social and economic institutions, Park illustrates how climate change already affects everyone and may act as an amplifier of inequality. Wealthier households and corporations may adapt quickly, but without targeted interventions, less advantaged communities may not. Viewing climate change as a slow and unequal burn comes with an important silver lining. It puts dollars and cents behind the case for aggressive emissions cuts and helps identify concrete steps that can be taken to better manage its adverse effects We can begin to overcome our climate anxiety Park shows us when we begin to tackle these problems locally The Budget of the United States Government United States. Higher Education Transitions Eva Kyndt, Vincent Donche, Keith Trigwell, Sari Lindblom-Ylänne, 2017-05-18 In the current era where lifelong learning is brought to the fore higher education can no longer be regarded as an isolated trajectory within one's educational career as many students face substantial challenges in crafting their professional future. More specifically the transition from school to higher education and continuing to the labour market are often a difficult hurdle for many students. Almost half of students do not succeed in the first year and often withdraw from education. Students are faced with a variety of contexts and may choose to study in a different international context and they are then confronted with structural barriers in finding a high quality job as evidenced by increasing levels of youth unemployment and underemployment. Higher Education Transitions aims to deepen our understanding of the transitions taking place when students enter progress and leave higher education to enter the labour market. Drawing on an international team of contributors this guide includes three conceptual and fifteen empirical studies which include a range of quantitative qualitative cross sectional and longitudinal studies. Divided into three sections to reflect each important transition phase topics include transitions from secondary to higher education transitions within higher education transitions from higher education to the labour market. By considering transitions across different phases as a broad and interrelated process this guide will be essential reading for higher education researchers policy stakeholders and all those interested in the transitions into higher education and the labour market.
