Race and the Wild West Laura J. Arata, 2020-07-02 Winner of the Western Writers of America SPUR Award and the Western Association of Women Historians Gita Chaudhuri Prize Born a slave in eastern Tennessee Sarah Blair Bickford 1852 1931 made her way while still a teenager to Montana Territory where she settled in the mining boomtown of Virginia City Race and the Wild West is the first full length biography of this remarkable woman whose life story affords new insight into race and belonging in the American West around the turn of the twentieth century For many years Sarah Bickford s known biography fit into a single paragraph By examining her life in all its complexity Arata fills in what were long believed to be unrecoverable silent spaces in her story Before establishing herself as a successful business owner we learn she was twice married both times to white men Her first husband an Irish immigrant physically abused her until she divorced him in 1881 Their three children all died before the age of ten In 1883 she married Stephen Bickford and gave birth to four more children Upon his death she inherited his shares of the Virginia City Water Company acquiring sole ownership in 1917 For the final decade of her life Bickford actively preserved and promoted a historic Virginia City building best known as the site of the brutal lynching in 1864 of five men Her conspicuous role in developing an early form of heritage tourism challenges long standing narratives that place white men at the center of the Wild West myth and its promotion Bickford s story offers a window into the dynamics of race in the rural West Although her experiences defy easy categorization what is clear is that her navigation of social norms and racial barriers did not hinge on exceptionalism or tokenism Instead she built a life that deserves to be understood on its own terms Through exhaustive research and nuanced analysis Laura J Arata advances our understanding of a woman whose life embodied the contradictory intersections of hope and disappointment that characterized life in the early twentieth century American West for brave pioneers of many races

Before Canada Allan Greer, 2024-07-12 Long before Confederation created a nation state in northern North America Indigenous people were establishing vast networks and trade routes Volcanic eruptions pushed the ancestors of the Dene to undertake a trek from the present day Northwest Territories to Arizona Inuit migrated across the Arctic from Siberia reaching Southern Labrador where they met Basque fishers from northern Spain As early as the fifteenth century fishing ships from western Europe were coming to Newfoundland for cod creating the greatest transatlantic maritime link in the early modern world Later fur traders would take capitalism across the continent using cheap rum to lubricate their transactions The contributors to Before Canada reveal the latest findings of archaeological and historical research on this fascinating period Along the way they reframe the story of the Canadian past extending its limits across time and space and challenging us to reconsider our assumptions about this supposedly young country Innovative and multidisciplinary Before Canada inspires interest in the deep history of northern North America

On Revolutions Colin J. Beck, Mlada Bukovansky, George Lawson, Erica Chenoweth, Sharon Erickson Nepstad, Daniel P. Ritter, 2022 A cutting edge appraisal of revolution and its future On Revolutions co authored by six prominent scholars of revolutions reinvigorates revolutionary studies for the twenty first century Integrating insights from diverse fields including civil resistance studies international relations social movements and terrorism they offer new ways of thinking about persistent problems in the study of revolution This book outlines an approach that reaches beyond the common categorical distinctions As the authors argue revolutions are not just political or social but they feature many types of change Structure and agency are not mutually distinct they are mutually reinforcing processes Contention is not just violent or nonviolent but it is usually a mix of both Revolutions do not just succeed or fail but they achieve and simultaneously fall short And causal conditions are not just domestic or international but instead they are dependent on the interplay of each Demonstrating the merits of this approach through a wide range of cases the authors explore new opportunities for conceptual thinking about revolution provide methodological advice and engage with the ethical issues that exist at the nexus of scholarship and activism
