Digital TV Over Broadband Joan Van Tassel, 2013-10-08 Digital TV Over Broadband Harvesting Bandwidth offers a clear overview of how technological developments are revolutionizing television. It details the recent shift in focus from HDTV to a more broadly defined DTV and to the increasing importance of webcasting for interactive television. Digital Television examines the recent industry toward a combination of digital services including the use of the new bandwidth for additional channels of programming as well as some high definition television. The book discusses the increasingly rapid convergence of telecommunications, television, and computers and the important role of the web in the future of interactive programming. This new edition not only covers the new technology but also demonstrates practical uses of the technology in business models.

My TV for Seniors Michael Miller, 2019-03-28. Covers What, How, and Where to Watch TV for Less. Online TV Catherine Johnson, 2019-01-04. With growth in access to high-speed broadband and 4G and increased ownership of smartphones, tablets, and internet-connected television sets, the internet has simultaneously begun to compete with and transform television. Online TV argues that these changes create the conditions for an emergent internet era that challenges the language and concepts that we have to talk about television as a medium. In a wide-ranging analysis, Catherine Johnson sets out a series of conceptual frameworks designed to provide a clearer language with which to analyse the changes to television in the internet era and to bring into focus the power dynamics of the online TV industry. From providing definitions of online TV and the online TV industry to examining the ways in which technology, rights, interfaces, and algorithms are used to control and constrain access to audiovisual content, Online TV is a timely intervention into debates about contemporary internet and television cultures. A must-read for any students, scholars, and practitioners who want to understand and analyse the ways in which television is intertwining with and being transformed by the internet.
