 years of age or older This number is predicted to triple to more than 1 billion by 2025 Aging Nutrition and Taste Nutrition Food Science and Culinary Perspectives for Aging Tastefully provides research facts theories practical advice and recipes with full color photographs to feed the rapidly growing aging population healthfully This book takes an integrated approach utilizing nutrition food science and the culinary arts A significant number of aging adults may have taste and smell or chemosensory disorders and many may also be considered to be undernourished While this can be partially attributed to the behavioral physical and social changes that come with aging the loss or decline in taste and smell may be at the root of other disorders Aging adults may not know that these disorders exist nor what can be done to compensate This text seeks to fill the knowledge gap Aging Nutrition and Taste Nutrition Food Science and Culinary Perspectives for Aging Tastefully examines aging from three perspectives nutritional changes that affect health and well being food science applications that address age specific chemosensory changes compromised disease states and health and culinary arts techniques that help make food more appealing to diminishing senses Beyond scientific theory readers will find practical tips and techniques products recipes and menus to increase the desirability consumption and gratification of healthy foods and beverages as people age Presents information on new research and theories including a fresh look at calcium cholesterol fibers omega 3 fatty acids higher protein requirements vitamins C E D trace minerals and phytonutrients and others specifically for the aging
