Brown, Jeremy William Holt, Thomas Tzu Szu Kuo, 2010 This book provides a comprehensive overview of some key developments in the understanding of the nucleon nucleon interaction and nuclear many body theory The main problems at the level of meson exchange physics have been solved and we have an effective field theory using a phenomenological interaction pioneered by Achim Schwenk and Scott Bogner which is nearly universally accepted as a unique low momentum interaction that includes all experimental data to date This understanding is based on a multi step development in which different scientific insights and a wide range of physical and mathematical methodologies fed into each other It is best appreciated by looking at the different steps along the way starting with the pioneering work of Brueckner and his collaborators that was just as necessary and important as the insightful masterly improvements to Brueckner s theory by Hans Bethe and his students Moving on from there the off shell effects that bedeviled Bethe s work which had resulted in the 1963 Reference Spectrum Method were treated relatively accurately by introducing an energy gap between initial bound states and an intermediate state With their influential 1967 paper Brown and Kuo prepared the effective field theory Later the introduction of Brown Rho scaling deepened understanding of saturation in the many body system and fed directly into recent work on carbon 14 dating Holt Biology Chapter 41 Resource File: Nervous System Holt Rinehart & Winston, Holt, Rinehart and Winston Staff, 2004 India Rubber World and Electrical Trades Review ,1927 Energy Research Abstracts ,1990 Nucleon-nucleon Interaction And The Nuclear Many-body Problem, The: Selected Papers Of Gerald E Brown And T T S Kuo Gerald E Brown, Thomas T S Kuo, Sabine Lee, Jeremy William Holt, 2010-07-05 This book provides a comprehensive overview of some key developments in the understanding of the nucleon nucleon interaction and nuclear many body theory The main problems at the level of meson exchange physics have largely been solved and we now have an effective nucleon nucleon interaction pioneered in a renormalization group formalism by several of us at Stony Brook and our colleagues at Naples which is nearly universally accepted as the unique low momentum interaction that includes all experimental information to date Our present understanding of these issues is based on a multi step development in which different scientific insights and a wide range of physical and mathematical methodologies fed into each other It is best appreciated by looking at the steps along the way starting with the pioneering work of Brueckner and his collaborators that was just as necessary and important as the insightful improvements to Brueckner's theory by Hans Bethe and his students. Moving on from these microscopic methods for nuclear structure calculations using the Brueckner G matrix and later low momentum nucleon interactions were developed and applied. With their influential 1967 paper Brown and Kuo prepared the effective theory that allowed the description of nuclear properties directly from the underlying nucleon-nucleon interaction. Later the addition of Brown-Rho scaling to the one-boson exchange model deepened the understanding of nuclear matter saturation, carbon-14 dating, and the structure of neutron stars.

Photonic Band Gap Materials C.M. Soukoulis, 2012-12-06. Photonic band gap crystals offer unique ways to tailor light and the propagation of electromagnetic waves. In analogy to electrons in a crystal, EM waves propagating in a structure with a periodically modulated dielectric constant are organized into photonic bands separated by gaps in which propagating states are forbidden. Proposed applications of such photonic band gap crystals operating at frequencies from microwave to optical include zero threshold lasers, low loss resonators and cavities, and efficient microwave antennas. Spontaneous emission is suppressed for photons in the photonic band gap, offering novel approaches to manipulating the EM field and creating high efficiency light emitting structures. Photonic Band Gap Materials identifies three most promising areas of research. The first is materials fabrication involving the creation of high quality low loss periodic dielectric structures. The smallest photonic crystals yet fabricated have been made by machining Si wafers along 110 and some have lattice constants as small as 500 microns. The second area is in applications. Possible applications presented are microwave mirrors, directional antennas, resonators, especially in the 2 GHz region, filters, waveguides, Y splitters, and resonant microcavities. The third area covers fundamentally new physical phenomena in condensed matter physics and quantum optics. An excellent review of recent development covering theoretical, experimental, and applied aspects. Interesting and stimulating reading for active researchers as well as a useful reference for non-specialists. Applied Mechanics Reviews, 1974.
