The Art of Self-Improvement Anna Katharina Schaffner, 2021-09-14 A brilliant distillation of the key ideas behind successful self improvement practices throughout history showing us how they remain relevant today Self help today is a multi billion dollar global industry one often seen as a by product of neoliberalism and capitalism Far from being a recent phenomenon however the practice of self improvement has a long and rich history extending all the way back to ancient China For millennia philosophers sages and theologians have reflected on the good life and devised strategies on how to achieve it Focusing on ten core ideas of self improvement that run through the world's advice literature Anna Katharina Schaffner reveals the ways they have evolved across cultures and historical eras and why they continue to resonate with us today Reminding us that there is much to learn from looking at time honed models Schaffner also examines the ways that self improvement practices provide powerful barometers of the values anxieties and aspirations that preoccupy us at particular moments in time and expose basic assumptions about our purpose and nature

The Mourner's Dance Katherine Ashenburg, 2004-09-01 When her daughter's fiancé died suddenly Katherine Ashenburg was surprised to see how her daughter intuitively re created the traditional rituals of mourning even those of which she was ignorant Intrigued Ashenburg began to explore the rich and endlessly inventive choreographies different cultures and times have devised to mark a universal and deeply felt plight Contemporary North American culture favors a mourning that is private and virtually invisible But as Ashenburg reveals the grieving customs of the past were so integrated into daily life that ultimately they gave rise to public parks and ready to wear clothing Our keepsakes prescribed bereavement garb resting places mourning etiquette and ways of commiserating from wakes to Internet support groups remain clues to our most elemental beliefs and our most effective means of restoring selves and communities unraveled by loss

Subjectivity and Neonihilism Patric Plesa, 2025-06-12 Subjectivity and Neonihilism examines the current Western sociopolitical climate revealing how it shapes who we are how we think of ourselves and how we create meaning in a seemingly meaningless world Drawing on critical theory this book looks at some of the social inequities produced under neoliberal capitalism and the ways these problems are internalized into subjectivity as the neoliberal self Neoliberal cultural values are shown to reframe social inequities as personal problems and simultaneously create a sense of personal responsibility for solving them within the self rather than addressing them externally The author argues that current crises in meaning making and mental health have been exacerbated by the neoliberal values of individualization responsabilization self governance and competition Divided into 3 parts this book begins by outlining the emergence of subjectivity and technologies of the self It demonstrates how the sociopolitical conditions that amplify social inequities intertwine with the hyperawareness of the internet age to create an atmosphere of meaninglessness that is pervasive on social media and in internet culture In part 2 the author further analyses this phenomenon here labelled neonihilism as the process in which we confront meaninglessness through irony questioning whether this might hold the intrinsic condition for overcoming this new nihilism Part 3 examines the possibility for collective meaning making solidarity and collective action afforded by creating an art of nihilating the neoliberal self or what the author terms the ars nihil via subversion and resistance This book offers fresh insights that will be of interest to students and scholars of critical theory psychology philosophy and sociology
