In the media, working class immigrant women are often depicted uneducated, conniving and inarticulate. My life, however, as an SFSU graduate student and as a working class immigrant Pilipina American who has supported herself since age 18—speak of a different experience. Watching both my parents slave over 12 hour working days, seven days a week in menial labor jobs just to make rent for a one bedroom apartment was my reality as a child. My parents' work ethic and daily struggles continue to serve as an inspiration for me to strive for a relevant and meaningful education and profession—and to be the first in my family to receive a graduate degree.

Thanks to my parents' encouragement, I was able to graduate cum laude at UCLA with a Psychology and Asian American Studies double major and an Education minor. In my four years at UCLA, I was a five time recipient of the Provost's Honors List. My most rewarding experiences in college, however, were outside of the classroom walls. As a graduating senior I was also recognized with the UCLA Chancellor Service Award, the Pilipino Graduation Enlightenment Award and A. Magazine's Top 10 Student Leader in the Nation for initiating my own community service tutorial project in South Central, Los Angeles – a poor, urban and underserved community. The project was called Project S.E.T. (South Central Evening Tutorial) and we mentored and tutored the children of immigrant parents who were attending evening adult school four nights a week.

Next Generation Genres Jessica Singer Early,2022-11-29 Students need updated writing genres and a real reason to write Evolutions in technology and connectivity have brought about significant changes in the ways writing is produced and shared Yet despite monumental shifts in the practice of writing how we teach writing has remained largely static What we need is a new set of genres for writing instruction genres that will speak to students who are already immersed in rich and multifaceted literacy practices through social media gaming and new technologies Jessica S Early's Next Generation Genres provides an alternative framework for a secondary writing curriculum that places a central emphasis on helping students gain the experience they need to write with confidence in academic and civic life If your students eyes glaze over when they face a standard essay assignment perhaps it's time to let them try writing an infographic or a podcast Ebony ,1996-06

EBONY is the flagship magazine of Johnson Publishing Founded in 1945 by John H Johnson it still maintains the highest global circulation of any African American focused magazine Social Justice in Action Neal A. Lester,2024-11-08 Addressing both veterans of justice work and novices seeking points of entry the essays in this volume showcase practical approaches to diversity equity and inclusion ways to build community earn trust tell unheard stories and develop solutions to problems Emphasizing values such as empathy self reflection and integrity the volume is rooted in humanities work but also features contributions from fields as diverse as the performing arts architecture and evolutionary biology and represents settings beyond the college campus such as schools libraries museums and prisons While bringing insights from higher education it critiques the system as well exploring the ways that institutions reinforce power structures and exclude marginalized voices Interspersed with the essays brief reflections by activists and artists offer testimony and inspiration

Write Yourself In Eric Tipler,2024-06-11 Write authentic memorable college essays that will help you get into the right school for you with this guidebook from a veteran college admissions expert Every spring over one million high school juniors embark on an annual rite of passage applying to college And with college admission rates at an all time low getting into a competitive school is now tougher than ever At the top schools a strong transcript and great test scores will get your application noticed but it's your essays and the personal story that they highlight that will get you admitted But often students don't know where to start Teens fret over topics because they don't know what college admissions officers are looking for They bend over backwards to write what they think colleges want to read instead of telling their authentic story which is what admissions officers actually want in a way that will resonate with their readers They also struggle because college essays which are narrative first person and introspective require a different set of skills from academic expository writing they've been learning for years in the classroom Seasoned college admissions expert and educator Eric Tipler has seen this firsthand Teens and their parents spend countless anxiety filled hours crafting and refining essays that are often lackluster In Write Yourself In Tipler meets students where they are and provides comprehensive actionable advice in a warm and conversational tone He demonstrates how to craft a winning essay one that is authentic vulnerable and demonstrative of qualities like personal growth and emotional maturity Instead of formulas Write Yourself In gives students step by step processes for brainstorming outlining writing and revising essays It encourages them to seek out feedback at key points in the process something Tipler has found to be vital to helping students produce their best writing Further the book includes sidebars that teach essential components of good storytelling a secret weapon in the admissions process In addition to the admissions essay Write Yourself In also covers the most common supplemental essays on topics like community diversity openness to others viewpoints and why their school is a good fit for the student scholarship essays as well as scholarship essays Tipler includes sections that address current topics like the widespread use of ChatGPT and the discussion of race in the admissions essay a facet of the student's application that will have newfound importance given the Supreme Court decision on affirmative action Written with both the parent and teen in mind Write Yourself In is the go to handbook for writing a great college essay How to Write a Winning Scholarship Essay Gen Tanabe,Kelly

Tanabe,2026-05-12 Examining the two basic components of scholarship competition essays and interviews this vital guidebook offers practical advice and real life examples to guide students through the entire application process A roundtable panel of judges and applicants supply inside information regarding the winning qualities sought after by award giving organizations and tips for finding scholarships by using books the internet personal connections and sources in the community With insight into the judges criteria for a successful application 30 previously awarded scholarship essays are thoroughly analyzed from choice of topic to writing style Revealing unique strategies for preparation and overcoming nervousness this definitive resource also includes sample interview questions and answers The Ultimate Scholarship Book 2009 Gen S.
