Self Portrait In Green:

Self Portrait in Green Marie NDiaye, 2021-02-25 NDiaye is a hypnotic storyteller with an unflinching understanding of the rock bottom reality of most people's life New York Times One of France's most exciting prose stylists The Guardian Obsessed by her encounters with the mysterious green women and haunted by the Garonne River a nameless narrator seeks them out in La Roche Paris Marseille and Ouagadougou Each encounter reveals different aspects of the women real or imagined dead or alive seductive or suicidal driving the narrator deeper into her obsession in this unsettling exploration of identity memory and paranoia Self Portrait in Green is the multi prize winning Marie NDiaye's brilliant subversion of the memoir Written in diary entries with lyrical prose and dreamlike imagery we start with and return to the river which mirrors the narrative by posing more questions than it answers Pack My Back Henry Green, 1952 Pack My Bag Henry Green, 1993 Green's memoirs of growing up in England the stately home packed with wounded soldiers of World War I the miseries of Eton and later his literary career Stepping Off the Edge Anne McConnell, 2021-03-09 Stepping Off the Edge addresses the question of literary edges and endings in contemporary works of literature from France the United States Canada and Latin America The book includes discussion of works by nine different authors including Anne Carson Marie NDiaye Paul Auster and C S Lewis It considers the way that specific texts identify and interrogate textual boundaries and also draw attention to questions of closure Each of these texts also reflects on the way we experience and write about edges and endings in our lives

Henry Green Nick Shepley, 2016-07-29 Henry Green Class Style and the Everyday offers a critical prism through which Green's fiction from his earliest published short stories as an Eton schoolboy through to his last dialogic novels of the 1950s can be seen as a coherent subtle and humorous critique of the tension between class style and realism in the first half of the twentieth century The study extends on going critical recognition that Green's work is central to the development of the novel from the twenties to the fifties acting as a vital bridge between late modernist inter war post war and postmodernist fiction The overarching contention is that the shifting and destabilizing nature of Green's oeuvre sets up a predicament similar to that confronted by theorists of the everyday Consequently each chapter acknowledges the indeterminacy of the writing whether it be the non singular functioning or malfunctioning of the name the open ended purposefully ambiguous nature of its symbols the shifting cinematic nature of Green's prose style the sensitive but resolutely unsentimental depictions of the working classes and the aristocracy in the inter war period the impact of war and its inconsistent irruptions into daily life or the ways in which moments or events are rapidly subsumed back into the flux of the everyday their impact left uncertain Critics have historically offered up singular readings of Green's work or focused on the poetic or recreative qualities of certain works particularly those of the 1940s Green's writing is undoubtedly poetic and extraordinary but this book also pays attention to the clichéd meta textual and uneventful aspects of his fiction Great War Modernism Nanette Norris, 2015-12-16 New Modernist Studies while reviving and revitalizing modernist studies through lively scholarly debate about historicity aesthetics politics and genres is struggling with important questions concerning the delineation that makes discussion fruitful and possible This volume aims to explore and clarify the position of the so called core of literary modernism in its seminal engagement with the Great War In studying the years of the Great War we find ourselves once more studying the giants about whom there is so much more to say as well as adding hitherto marginalized writers and a few visual artists to the canon The contention here is that these war years were seminal to the development of a distinguishable literary practice which is called modernism but perhaps could be further delineated as Great War modernism a practice whose aesthetic merits can be addressed through formal analysis This collection of essays offers new insight into canonical British American European modernism of the Great War period using the critical tools of contemporary expansionist modernist studies By focusing on war and on the experience of the soldier and of those dealing with issues of war and survival these studies link the unique forms of expression found in modernism with the fragmented violent and traumatic experience of the time

The Art of Peter Prendergast Richard Cork, 2013 Peter Prendergast 1946 2007 painter of bold expressionist landscapes seascapes and self portraits was an outstanding artist as celebrated in this important new publication Complementing The Painter s Quarry 2006 this beautifully illustrated book will enhance our understanding of a significant painter and as such is an essential purchase for all those interested in modern British art

Green Light George Gessert, 2012-02-10 How humans aesthetic perceptions have shaped other life forms from racehorses to ornamental plants Humans have bred plants and animals with an eye to aesthetics for centuries flowers are selected for colorful blossoms or luxuriant foliage racehorses are prized for the elegance of their frames Hybridized plants were first exhibited as fine art in 1936 when the Museum of Modern Art in New York showed Edward Steichen s hybrid delphiniums Since then bio art has become a genre artists work with a variety of living things including plants animals bacteria slime molds and fungi Many commentators have addressed the social and political concerns raised by making art out of living material In Green Light however George Gessert examines the role that aesthetic perception has played in bio art and other interventions in evolution Gessert looks at a variety of life forms that humans have helped shape focusing on plants the most widely domesticated form of life and the one that has been crucial to his own work as an artist We learn about pleasure gardens of the Aztecs cultivated for intoxicating fragrance the aesthetic standards promoted by national plant societies a daffodil that looks like a rose and praise for weeds and wildflowers

Writers of the Old School Rosemary M. Colt, Janice Rossen, 1992-06-18 This charts the emergence of British writers who assimilated the experimentation of the modernists in a realist tradition also crafting their own distinctive literary voice The essays in this volume cover a broad range of authors including George Orwell and Evelyn Waugh
