IEP GOAL BANK

Emotional Regulation Goals

- Requests a break. When completing a non-preferred task, student will exchange a "Break" card to instructor with absence of inappropriate behaviors. Student will complete this skill with 80% independence over 10 consecutive opportunities. If student does not request a break but completes appropriately with task, this is not scored as a data opportunity, but if student completes task with inappropriate behaviors instead of requesting "Break", this is scored as an incorrect trial opportunity.
- Seeks sensory item When presented with a visual cue and the verbal cue, "Use your sensory item," student will reach for and request an item from the sensory bin on their desk. They will complete this skill successfully on 3 out of 5 consecutive opportunities.
- Tolerates change to routine. When presented with the cue, "Something is Different" and a change in schedule (e.g., "Time for Recess/Music today instead of Library"), student will respond appropriately by transitioning to current activity with absence of disruptive behaviors such as screaming or throwing items. They will complete this skill with a minimum of 70% success across 10 consecutive sessions.

Handbook of Special Education James M. Kauffman, Daniel P. Hallahan, 2011-05-15 Special education is now an established part of public education in the United States by law and by custom. However, it is still widely misunderstood and continues to be dogged by controversies related to such things as categorization, grouping, assessment, placement, funding, instruction, and a variety of legal issues. The purpose of this 13-part, 57-chapter handbook is to help profile and bring greater clarity to this sprawling and growing field. To ensure consistency across the volume, chapter authors review and integrate existing research, identify strengths and weaknesses, note gaps in the literature, and discuss implications for practice and future research. Key features include Comprehensive Coverage: Fifty-seven chapters cover all aspects of special education in the United States, including cultural and international comparisons. Issues/Trends: In addition to synthesizing empirical findings and providing a critical analysis of the status and direction of current research, chapter authors discuss issues related to practice and reflect on trends in thinking. Categorical Chapters: In order to provide a comprehensive and comparative treatment of the twelve categorical chapters in section IV, chapter authors were asked to follow a consistent outline: Definition, Causal Factors, Identification, Behavioral Characteristics, Assessment, Educational Programming, and Trends and Issues. Expertise: Edited by two of the most accomplished scholars in special education, chapter authors include a carefully chosen mixture of established and rising young stars in the field. This book is an appropriate reference volume for anyone: researchers, scholars, graduate students, practitioners, policy makers, and parents interested in the state of special education today, its research base, current issues and practices, and future trends. It is also appropriate as a textbook for graduate-level courses in special education.

Resources in Education, 1999 Issues in Educating Students With Disabilities John Wills Lloyd, Edward J. Kameenui, David J. Chard, 2014-05-01 The contributors to this volume represent the most prominent researchers and thinkers on issues in educating students with and without disabilities. The book captures the most current thinking, research, and analysis on the full range of issues in educating students with learning disabilities from its definition to the most recent case law and interpretations of federal law on educating these students in the general education classroom. The contributors' words speak sufficiently mellifluously and exactly about their contributions to the education of all students, in particular those with disabilities. This book of essays was written to pay tribute to Barbara D. Bateman, who along with Sam Kirk, coined the term learning disabilities. Its content reflects the significance of her contributions to the field of special education.
