

BLUE GIANT. INTERLOCKING SOLUTION

Blue Genius™ touch control stations provide the highest level in loading dock safety, productivity, and communication. A single control station interlocks an entire loading dock system, providing a safe and simplified operation from one central location.

- The sequence of equipment operation is properly interlocked to optimize safety and productivity. Operating sequences can be customized to suit application needs.
- NEMA4X / IP65 rated polycarbonate enclosure is washdown and corrosion resistant, making it compatible with facilities that must adhere to FDA's high cleaning standards, such as pharmaceutical and chemical handling locations.

- An interior and exterior LED lights communication system continually displays safety conditions to dock personnel and truck drivers, reducing the risk of accident or injury.
- A STOP button allows the operator to halt or limit equipment motion in the event of a potential emergency.
- Built-in audible alarm alerts operators to certain potentially unsafe conditions.
- Audible touch buttons and numeric keypad are flat-surface in design, and will not break off or wear down with extended use. All buttons provide instant sound feedback to user input.
- The large LCD screen displays clear and accurate instructions for the operation and troubleshooting of all connected dock equipment. Multi-language support available.
- The microprocessor based design makes operational upgrades quick and easy. All function expansions are done via software; no need to replace the panel.
- Printed circuit board technology provides trouble-free wiring, eliminating performance issues associated with the deterioration of mechanical switches and wires.
