Leonard Bast's Adventure: "Looking for a Real Home"

The title of the paper is centred.

It is not a controversial statement to say that E.M. Forster's Leonard Bast, the aspiring,

Book titles are italicized paper and in the Works Cited list.

clerk of Howard's End, is the least successfully rendered major character in the novel. As the novel is concerned with the social realities of its day, it would seem that the failure to convince readers of the reality of Leonard Bast is a serious flaw, although Forster deserves some credit for making the attempt. Margaret and Helen Schlegel's efforts to establish a friendship with Leonard Bast despite class barriers is a parallel action, in the novel, to the author's attempt to include Leonard Bast in the novel as a serious character on a level with Margaret and Helen. Forster is able to portray intelligently the problems the Schlegels have in their endeavour and the reasons for the problems both within Margaret and Helen and within Leonard. But the reader cannot help but notice that Forster is unable to portray Leonard as anything else than other, again, paralleling Margaret and Helen's own inability to accept Leonard as more like themselves than different. Forster's attitude seems fatally divided, yet Leonard Bast's role in the novel is crucially important. His journey towards death, if studied closely, throws light on the most fundamental questions the novel explores, "questions about the way in which reality may be known" (Bradbury 130).

Sexuality and the Politics of Ethos in the Writing Classroom Zan Meyer Goncalves, 2006-01-04 Applying the complexities of literacy development and personal ethos to the teaching of composition Zan Meyer Goncalves challenges writing teachers to consider ethos as a series of identity performances shaped by the often inequitable social contexts of their classrooms and communities Using the rhetorical experiences of students who identify as lesbian gay bisexual and or transgender she proposes a new way of thinking about ethos that addresses the challenges of social justice identity and transfer issues in the classroom Goncalves offers an innovative approach to teaching identity performance theory bound by social contexts She applies this new approach to theories of specificity and intersectionality illustrating how teachers can help students redefine the relationship between their social identities and their writing She also addresses bringing social activism and identity politics into the classroom helping writers make transfers across rhetorical contexts and linking students interests to public conversations Theoretical and practical Sexuality and the Politics of Ethos in the Writing Classroom provides teachers of first year and advanced composition studies with useful detailed assignments based in specific identity performance Goncalves offers techniques to subvert oppressive language practices while encouraging students to recognize themselves as writers citizens and active participants in their own educations and communities

Teaching Writing as Journey, Not Destination P. L. Thomas, 2019-01-01 American author Kurt Vonnegut has famously declared that writing is unteachable yet formal education persists in that task Teaching Writing as Journey Not Destination is the culmination of P L Thomas s experiences as both a writer and a teacher of writing reaching into the fourth decade of struggling with both This volume collects essays that examine the enduring and contemporary questions facing writing teachers including grammar instruction authentic practices in high stakes environments student choice citation and plagiarism the five paragraph essay grading and the intersections of being a writer and teaching writing Thomas offers concrete classroom experiences drawn from teaching high school ELA first year composition and a wide range of undergraduate and graduate courses Ultimately however the essays are a reflection of Thomas s journey and a concession to both writing and teaching writing as journeys without ultimate destinations
