Army Service Forces, 1942 Monitoring Behavior and Supervisory Control T. Sheridan, 2013-03-09 This book includes all papers presented at the International Symposium on Monitoring Behavior and Supervisory Control held at Berchtesgaden Federal Republic of Germany March 8 12 1976 The Symposium was sponsored by the Scientific Affairs Division of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization Brussels and the government of the Federal Republic of Germany Bonn We believe the book constitutes an important and timely status report on monitoring behavior and supervisory control by human operators of complex man machine systems in which the computer is sharing key functions with the man These systems include aircraft and other vehicles nuclear and more conventional power plants and processes for the manufacture of chemicals petroleum and discrete parts By monitoring we mean the systematic observation by a human operator of multiple sources of information e g ranging from integrated display consoles to disparate live situations The monitor's purpose is to determine whether operations are normal and proceeding as desired and to diagnose difficulties in the case of abnormality or undesirable outcomes By supervisory control we mean control by a human operator of a computer which at a lower level is controlling a dynamic system In such systems the computer control normally operates continuously or at high data rates in loops closed through electromechanical sensors and motors By contrast the human operator normally signals or reprograms the computer intermittently or at a much slower pace The human operator handles the higher level tasks and determines the goals of the overall system Pattern Recognition and Machine Learning King-Sun Fu, 2012-12-06 This book contains the Proceedings of the US Japan Seminar on Learning Process in Control Systems The seminar held in Nagoya Japan from August 18 to 20 1970 was sponsored by the US Japan Cooperative Science Program jointly supported by the National Science Foundation and the Japan Society for the Promotion of Science The full texts of all the presented papers except two are included The papers cover a great variety of topics related to learning processes and systems ranging from pattern recognition to systems identification from learning control to biological modelling In order to reflect the actual content of the book the present title was selected All the twenty eight papers are roughly divided into two parts Pattern Recognition and System Identification and Learning Process and Learning Control It is sometimes quite obvious that some papers can be classified into either part The choice in these cases was strictly the editor's in order to keep a certain balance between the two parts During the past decade there has been a considerable growth of interest in problems of pattern recognition and machine learning In designing an optimal pattern recognition or control system if all the a priori information about the process under study is known and can be described deterministically the optimal system is usually designed by deterministic optimization techniques
