J. de Kock,2014-03-25 We need a whole new mind to thrive in the twenty first century says Daniel Pink As theologians we cannot escape the transition from the information age to the conceptual age of the twenty first century In the information age the theologian could give answers based on the best information but in the twenty first century information is on hand Empathy and understanding however are in scant supply today In the information age there was no room for doubt certainty was the hallmark of a successful information worker But today uncertainty is a certainty thanks to globalization the information revolution and even quantum mechanics Uncertainty has been grafted into our collective consciousness It therefore cannot be theological business as usual It cannot be about giving answers it is more about finding the best questions to be answered It cannot be about winning theological arguments it is more about living in God s regenerative story while we find ourselves in the liminal space of uncertainty It cannot be about holding strong opinions it is more about creating space for life to allow God s generosity to flow through us Out of My Mind tells the story of such a transition Out Of My Mind Cathy Penman,2016 One day with the help of a cat a young girl called Laura discovers that she has a very special talent As she grows up she nurtures it but always in secret She is right in thinking that she might be in danger should anyone find out
