on Corporate Social Responsibility and the Developmental Trend in Vietnam Nguyen Binh An, Phan Thong Anh, 2023-01-20. This book examines the law and its development trends in the area of corporate social responsibility (CSR) in Vietnam. It is an important reference in implementing the requirements of CPTPP and EVFTA in Vietnam, and it is also very important in improving the legal framework in Vietnam to comply with international standards, especially in the areas of labor environment and consumer protection, and in raising awareness of CSR among Vietnamese companies. Many articles in this book analyze and assess the legal status of CSR, thus providing a number of constructive suggestions for improving the relevant laws in Vietnam. Corporate social responsibility is not only the contribution of corporate philanthropy to society but also the compliance of companies with international standards and national laws in the fields of labor environment, investment, labor security, social security, etc. Against the backdrop of Vietnam's growing international integration, the requirement of corporate social responsibility has been and continues to be paramount in business activities. It is not only a need at the enterprise level but is also related to the internationalization of international standards and the improvement of national laws on CSR. Reparations by Non-State Armed Groups under International Law Olivia Herman, 2024-07-11. This book examines whether and how non-state armed groups might be required to provide reparations for the harm caused by their violations of international law committed during situations of non-international armed conflict. Most of today's armed conflicts are waged between states and non-state armed groups or between such groups. Societies ravaged by these conflicts endure extensive harm resulting from violations of international humanitarian law and international human rights law. This reality prompts a series of pressing questions: Akin to states, should non-state armed groups be held responsible for making reparation when violating international law? And if so, what measures can these groups take to repair the harm they have caused? The book begins by clarifying if there exists in contemporary international law a duty for armed groups to provide reparation. It considers whether non-state armed groups have primary international obligations as distinct duty bearers and whether reparation can be one of the legal consequences when violating these obligations. Subsequently, the book sheds new light on how non state armed groups duty of reparation can be operationalised in international law This involves elucidating both the conceptualisation and practical application of this duty Combining this legal analysis with practical perspectives the book unveils important insights for international law drawn from an in depth analysis of Colombia s experiences with reparations by armed groups in the context of transitional justice This book will be of interest to scholars and practitioners working in the fields of international law related to armed conflict accountability and redress and transitional justice more broadly
