Country Reports on Human Rights Practices ,2001 Political Governance in Post-Genocide Rwanda Filip Reyntjens, 2013-12-30 Analyses political governance in post genocide Rwanda focusing on the rise of the Rwandan Patriotic Front RPF In the aftermath of the 1994 Rwandan genocide the RPF has employed various means rigged elections elimination of opposition parties and civil society legislation outlawing dissenting opinions and terrorism to consolidate its position as the nation s ruling party Although Rwanda is considered successful for its technocratic governance societal reforms and economic development shows the regime's darker side of human rights abuses, social engineering projects, information management schemes, and retributive justice system.

Evolution and Devolution Tom Lansford, 2019-07-18 This title was first published in 2000. This study bridges the gap in the otherwise rich literature on European security through its analysis of past and present efforts at military integration. Previous works have concentrated on the transatlantic relationship or the intra-European dimension of the effort to create autonomous defense capabilities or even on the ramifications of the changed defense market. Evolution and Devolution combines these themes and subjects. The work integrates these topics against the backdrop of the current scholarly debate over international relations by examining the changing nature of sovereignty and the evolution of the nation state. In the end, the course toward more integration and yet continued participation of the U.S. is shown to be the optimum course for EU member states in light of the security threats and constraints facing national governments.

Memory and Justice in Post-Genocide Rwanda Timothy Longman, 2017-07-14 A critical exploration of the steps taken to promote peace, reconciliation, and justice in post-genocide Rwanda.

Life After the Soviet Union Nozar Alaolmolki, 2001-10-18 Examines the political, social, and economic issues confronted by each of the newly independent republics in the Transcaucasus and Central Asian regions.

The Balkans on Trial Carole Hodge, 2019-05-10 This book assesses the International Criminal Tribunal for former Yugoslavia's ICTY legacy and examines the conflicting intersection of law and politics in the search for justice, both thematically and through close analysis of some of the major trials. It analyses the related case brought against Serbia and Montenegro by Bosnia and Herzegovina at the International Court of Justice (ICJ) as well as the Ganic case in London where the ICTY and ICJ findings were challenged. The book addresses the following questions: To what extent the political climate in which the ICTY was conceived and continues to operate has affected the declared aims of its founders? Have political considerations and political correctness and the perceived need for political stability and democratic transition at times proved an obstacle to the administration of justice? Are some of the acknowledged failings of international policy in the 1990s finding some resonance in more recent court proceedings? This highly relevant and comprehensive book will be of interest to students and scholars of political science, international relations, transitional justice, Balkan area studies, human rights law, international criminal law, and peace and conflict studies.

Caspian Energy Resources The Emirates Center for Strategic Studies and Research, 2000-08-23 The potentially rich energy resources of the Caspian region have proved to be a tantalizing magnet for nations, oil companies, and investors, and this prospective oil bonanza has prompted intense media coverage. As nations continually search for new supplies to replace those barrels of oil that are being depleted, Caspian oil assumes significance because of its high quality and export potential. How far will this potential be realized, and to what extent will these resources become a substitute for Gulf oil? In this volume, a number of researchers and experts discuss the various dimensions of Caspian oil, including its attractions, the rationale, and scope for foreign investment the complexities of the region's legal environment contentious pipeline issues regional political trends and the economic impact of Caspian oil on oil producers from the Arab Gulf countries and the world market Given the limits in the opportunities of developing means to exploit Caspian oil studies suggest that there is little prospect of serious competition to Gulf oil and that the market control of the Arab Gulf producers may be relatively unaffected in the short or medium term However Caspian oil will be a significant addition to non OPEC output and may eventually threaten the predominant position of Gulf oil unless regional oil producers adopt more market oriented economic investment and pricing policies

United States Practice in International Law: Volume 1, 1999-2001 Sean D. Murphy, 2003-01-09 Sean D Murphy's wide ranging and in depth 2002 survey of U S practice in international law in the period 1999-2001 draws upon the statements and actions of the executive legislative and judicial branches of the U S government to examine its involvement across a range of areas These areas include diplomatic and consular relations jurisdiction and immunities state responsibility and liability international organizations international economic law human rights and international criminal law At the time of its first publication this summary of the most salient issues was a central resource on U S practice in international law The volume contains extracts from hard to find documents generous citations to relevant sources tables of cases and treaties and a detailed index Revealing international law in the making this essential tool for researchers and practitioners was the first in a series of books capturing the international law practice of a global player

Rights in Exile Guglielmo Verdirame, Barbara E. Harrell-Bond, 2005 Of the estimated 12 million refugees in the world more than 7 million have been confined to camps effectively warehoused in some cases for 10 years or more Holding refugees in camps was anathema to the founders of the refugee protection regime Today with most refugees encamped in the less developed parts of the world the humanitarian apparatus has been transformed into a custodial regime for innocent people Based on rich ethnographic data Rights in Exile exposes the gap between human rights norms and the mandates of international organisations on the one hand and the reality on the ground on the other It will be of wide interest to social scientists and to human rights and international law scholars Policy makers donor governments and humanitarian organizations especially those adopting a rights based approach will also find it an invaluable resource But it is the refugees themselves who could benefit the most if these actors absorb its lessons and apply them Guglielmo Verdirame is a Lecturer in Law at the University of Cambridge and a Fellow of Corpus Christi College He is also the author of a forthcoming book on the accountability of the United Nations Barbara Harrell Bond Founding director of the Refugee Studies Centre University of Oxford has after retirement been Visiting Professor at Makerere University and at the American University in Cairo In 1996 she received the Distinguished Service Award of the American Anthropological Association She is the author of Imposing Aid Oxford 1986 information and detailing key economic policy disputes between the two governments as well as the ongoing negotiations regarding a free trade agreement for the Americas The book also looks at political issues such as military cooperation nuclear energy human rights and democracy migration the relative influence of both governments elsewhere in South America relations in the context of multilateral organizations drug trafficking terrorism and the January 2003 transition from the Cardoso to the Lula presidency It concludes with an essay that situates US Brazilian relations in a broader analytical and comparative framework The United States and Brazil will be of interest to students and scholars of economics geography and politics and international relations in general

Burma (Myanmar): The Time for Change Martin Smith, 2002-07-17 Let us unite and work together These words were spoken by the independence hero Aung San at the 1947 conference where the ethnic principles of the future Union of Burma were agreed Within six months Aung San and most of his cabinet had been assassinated Following independence from Great Britain in 1948 a pattern of conflict and state failure was established that has lasted to the present day A country of abundant natural resources and human potential at independence by the late 1980s Burma Myanmar had declined to Least Developed Country status However as this report goes to press there is a small chance that Burma and its peoples may be turning towards peace after decades of conflict The author Martin Smith describes the pre colonial and colonial roots of the conflicts that have dominated Burma in the second half of the twentieth century and the attempts to resolve them at independence He discusses the periods of parliamentary democracy military socialist and transitional military rule In a section on the peoples of Burma he gives an overview of the main ethnic minority groups Chin Chinese Indians Kachin Karen Karenni Mon Naga Rakhine and Shan From the 1990s Burma has begun to open up to humanitarian agencies the report describes how these projects have so far produced understanding of the needs of the country rather than delivering decisive progress Major human rights issues are also discussed extrajudicial killings displacement of populations forced labour illegal use of landmines and child soldiers The position of women and restrictions on freedom of expression of minority cultures and the challenges posed by HIV AIDS and the trade in narcotics are also covered This timely report gives a concise picture of the major conflicts in Burma during the last century and the issues it faces in this one at a crucial moment in its history

The Great War for Civilisation Robert Fisk, 2007-12-18 A sweeping and dramatic history of the last half century of conflict in the Middle East from an award winning journalist who has covered the region for over forty years The Great War for Civilisation unflinchingly chronicles the tragedy of the region from the Algerian Civil War to the Iranian Revolution from the American hostage crisis in Beirut to the Iran Iraq War from the 1991 Gulf War to the American invasion of Iraq in 2003 A book of searing drama as well as lucid incisive analysis The Great War for Civilisation is a work of major importance for today's world

The East Timor Question Stephen McCloskey, Paul Hainsworth, 2000-08-11 Originally colonized by the Portuguese East Timor was brutally invaded and occupied by Indonesian military forces in 1975 According to the UN this resulted in the death of about a third of the population through massacres starvation and disease Subsequent events in Indonesia however have given rise to expectations of a fundamental change in its position on East Timor Considering the potential for change against a backdrop of growing popular and political support for the Timorese cause this book addresses its emergence as an issue of global importance The authors set out to show how local grassroots individual organizational and campaign initiatives have contributed to this state of affairs in the context of an increased international relations emphasis on ethics international morality and human rights Colombia Geoffrey Leslie Simons,2004 Colombia has not known a single day of peace since its inception this book is an urgent political narrative setting out to tell the tragic story of a people who despite everything remain unbroken Human Rights Manual and Sourcebook for Africa Keir Starmer,Theodora A. Christou,2005 At a time when the issue of human rights in Africa is making many advances Human Rights Sourcebook and Manual for Africa introduces easy to use jurisprudence The first section covers key principles and human rights norms which are detailed in straightforward language The second section is devoted to the death penalty detailing the relevant provisions from both international and regional instruments and offering a comparative commentary as to how the principles and relevant rights relate to the death penalty The third section summarizes key case law from international regional and domestic African courts and tribunals The case summaries detail the facts and decisions and include a headnote of relevant concepts for quick reference The fourth section focuses on thirteen African countries yet the reports are a useful comparative resource for all countries From conducting the research and compiling the material for this final section it is apparent that nothing like this has been attempted before in Africa Much of the work emanates from primary research and investigation conducted by local research teams in the individual countries Investigative research includes visiting prisons physically counting the individuals on death row and interviewing the detainees to obtain their age and the length of time they had been on death row Afghanistan - A New History Sir Martin Ewans,Martin Ewans,2002-11-14 Reviews the emergence and fall of the Taliban their ideology and their place within Islam and examines Afghanistan s relevance to issues relating to Islamic extremism the international drugs trade and international terrorism
