review: challenges and opportunities for long-term health system strengthening in Czechia World Health Organization, 2024-03-02 Following the Russian Federation's invasion of Ukraine in February 2022, Czechia encountered an unprecedented arrival of refugees from Ukraine, mainly women and children. This situation posed a new set of challenges. As of July 2023, 65% of these refugees have chosen to stay in Czechia, primarily in Prague and the Central Bohemian Region. Integrating refugees into the education and health systems already strained by the coronavirus disease COVID-19 pandemic is crucial. Those with protection status face challenges such as income poverty, employment, language barriers, and housing issues. Czechia has a legislative structure for migrants and asylum seekers. In response to the Temporary Protection Directive from the European Commission, Czechia activated three acts in what is known as the Lex Ukraine and established temporary protection status primarily for foreign nationals fleeing the Russian invasion. This move offered full public health insurance coverage at no initial cost. World Health Organization (WHO) and the Czech Ministry of Health (Ministerstvo zdravotnictví) conducted a joint review mission to provide a comprehensive overview of the health system's response with the aim of understanding service delivery challenges and identifying opportunities to further support Czechia in strengthening health system capacity and ensuring continued access to health services for refugees and host communities. Eye Tracking for STEM Education Research: New Perspectives Pascal Klein, Martin Rusek, Maïke Schindler, 2024-04-04 A modern approach to improving education uses the components of experimental scientific research practices based on objective data dissemination of results and the use of modern technologies. STEM education research is maturing, and new tools and analysis techniques become available. As one example, eye tracking, the recording of persons' eye movements, has been growing in popularity as it enables researchers to study learning materials' effectiveness, problem solving, and even students' approaches during experimentation. Eye movements, as captured using eye tracking, can reveal information about a student's attention and cognition on a process level, going well beyond classical product-based assessment techniques such as questionnaires or tests.
