Steinbeck's Imaginarium Robert DeMott, 2022-11-15 In Steinbeck's Imaginarium Robert DeMott delves into the imaginative creative and sometimes neglected aspects of John Steinbeck's writing DeMott positions Steinbeck as a prophetic voice for today as much as he was for the Depression era 1930s as the essays explore the often unknown or unacknowledged elements of Steinbeck's artistic career that deserve closer attention. He writes about the determining scientific influences such as quantum physics and ecology in Cannery Row and considers Steinbeck's addiction to writing through the lens of the extensive obsessive full-length journals that he kept while writing three of his best-known novels: The Grapes of Wrath, The Wayward Bus, and East of Eden. DeMott insists that these monumental works of fiction all comprise important statements on his creative process and his theory of fiction writing. DeMott further blends his personal experience as a lifelong angler with a reading of several neglected fishing episodes in Steinbeck's work. Collectively, the chapters illuminate John Steinbeck as a fully conscious, self-aware, literate experimental novelist whose talents will continue to warrant study and admiration for years to come.

Motherhood Memoirs: Mothers Creating/Writing Lives Justine Dymond, 2013-07-01 The authors in this collection examine and critique motherhood memoir alongside the texts of their own lives while seeking to transform mothering practice, highlighting revolutionary praxis within books or when none is available, creating new visions for social change. Many essays interrogate the tensions of maternal narrative, the negotiation of the historical location of writer and readers, narrative and linguistic constraints, and the slippery ground of memory, as well as the borders constructed between the objective scholar and the reader who engages with and identifies with texts through her intellect and her emotional being.

Authors on Writing B. Tomlinson, 2005-03-01 Drawing on some 3,000 published interviews with contemporary authors, Authors on Writing: Metaphors and Intellectual Labor reveals new ways of conceiving of writing as intellectual labor. Authors' metaphorical stories about composing highlight not interior worlds but socially situated cultures of composing and apparatuses of authorship. Through an original method of interpreting metaphorical stories, Tomlinson argues that writing is both an individual activity and a collective practice, a solitary activity that depends upon rich, sustained, and complex social networks, institutions, and beliefs. This new book draws upon interviews with writers including Seamus Heaney, Roald Dahl, Samuel Beckett, Bret Easton Ellis, John Fowles, Allen Ginsburg, Alice Walker, and Gore Vidal.
