Creativity Without Law Kate Darling, Aaron Perzanowski, 2017-02-28 Behind the scenes of the many artists and innovators flourishing beyond the bounds of intellectual property laws Intellectual property law or IP law is based on certain assumptions about creative behavior The case for regulation assumes that creators have a fundamental legal right to prevent copying and without this right they will under invest in new work But this premise fails to fully capture the reality of creative production It ignores the range of powerful non economic motivations that compel creativity and it overlooks the capacity of creative industries for self governance and innovative social and market responses to appropriation This book reveals the on the ground practices of a range of creators and innovators In doing so it challenges intellectual property orthodoxy by showing that incentives for creative production often exist in the absence of or in disregard for formal legal protections Instead these communities rely on evolving social norms and market responses sensitive to their particular cultural competitive and technological circumstances to ensure creative incentives From tattoo artists to medical researchers Nigerian filmmakers to roller derby players the communities

illustrated in this book demonstrate that creativity can thrive without legal incentives and perhaps more strikingly that some creative communities prefer and thrive in environments defined by self regulation rather than legal rules Beyond their value as descriptions of specific industries and communities the accounts collected here help to ground debates over IP policy in the empirical realities of the creative process Their parallels and divergences also highlight the value of rules that are sensitive to the unique mix of conditions and motivations of particular industries and communities rather than the monoculture of uniform regulation of the current IP system

Boozehound Jason Wilson, 2010-09-21 While some may wonder Does the world really need another flavored vodka no one answers this question quite so memorably as spirits writer and raconteur Jason Wilson does in Boozehound By the way the short answer is no A unique blend of travelogue spirits history and recipe collection Boozehound explores the origins of what we drink and the often surprising reasons behind our choices In lieu of odorless colorless tasteless spirits Wilson champions Old World liquors with hard to define flavors a bitter and complex Italian amari or the ancient aromatic herbs of Chartreuse as well as distinctive New World offerings like lively

Peruvian pisco With an eye for adventure Wilson seeks out visceral experiences at the source of production visiting fields of spiky agave in Jalisco entering the heavily and reverently guarded J germeister herb room in Wolfenb ttel and journeying to the French Alps to determine if mustachioed men in berets really handpick blossoms to make elderflower liqueur In addition Boozehound offers more than fifty drink recipes from three riffs on the Manhattan to cocktail geek favorites like the Aviation and the Last Word These recipes are presented alongside a host of opinionated essays that cherish the rare uncover the obscure dethrone the overrated and unravel the mysteries of taste trends and terroir Through his far flung intrepid traveling and tasting Wilson shows us that perhaps nothing else as entwined with the history of human culture is quite as much fun as booze
