Selected Papers from the English Institute, 1981      Ambiguity in the Western Mind Craig J. N. De Paulo, Patrick A. Messina, Marc Stier, 2005 Ambiguity in the Western Mind includes a collection of essays by internationally renowned scholars such as John D Caputo Camille Paglia Jaroslav Pelikan and Roland Teske along with a preface by Joseph Margolis all taking up the question of the significance of ambiguity in Western thought This engaging topic will be of interest to scholars and students alike from across the disciplines Tracing the conceptual relevance of ambiguity historically and through some of the great books that have formed Western consciousness this volume is a major contribution to the contemporary discussion surrounding this controversial notion especially as a hermeneutical concept for interpreting the classics      Audiences Ian Christie, 2012 This timely volume engages with one of the most important shifts in recent film studies the turn away from text based analysis towards the viewer Historically this marks a return to early interest in the effect of film on the audience by psychoanalysts and psychologists which was overtaken by concern with the effects of film linked to calls for censorship and moral panics rather than to understanding the mental and behavioral world of the spectator Early cinema history has revealed the diversity of film viewing habits while traditional box office studies which treated the audience initially as a homogeneous market have been replaced by the study of individual consumers and their motivations Latterly there has been a marked turn towards more sophisticated economic and sociological analysis of attendance data And as the film experience fragments across multiple formats the perceptual and cognitive experience of the individual viewer who is also an auditor has become increasingly accessible With contributions from Gregory Waller John Sedgwick and Martin Barker this work spans the spectrum of contemporary audience studies revealing work being done on local non theatrical and live digital transmission audiences and on the relative attraction of large scale domestic and mobile platforms Publisher's website
