

Of Mice & Men Chapter Questions

DIRECTIONS: Answer the following questions in COMPLETE sentences. Use support from the novel when necessary (page #s are fine).

Chapter 4

1) What does Crook's room and the things in it tell you about his character?

- Small
- Separate from the other men
- Spends a lot of time in the room
- Reads books (literate which was unusual for this time period)
- Straw bed—shows that he is treated differently than the other men
- Poor condition
- Collects items that he feels are of value

He has a lot of books shows that he is lonely and that he is literate. Not normal for black man. Bed is made out of hay shows that he is treated poorly. He is very protective of his items. He has medicine for his bad back.

2) What does Crooks say to Lennie about loneliness?

- Can make you crazy or sick
- When people come into the barn (work); horseshoes

Says that loneliness will make you go crazy and make you sick. Loneliness can happen at any time.

3) Why would Crooks react so negatively to Lennie, then let him in anyway?

Crooks reacts negatively because he is mad that Lennie can just walk into his room. He lets him because he is lonely and he knows Lennie will not judge him.

4) Why does Crooks torture and taunt Lennie about George?

Wants Lennie to feel bad about himself. He wants Lennie to know how it feels to be lonely. He is jealous of George and Lennie.

5) Why is Crooks called "Crooks"? How does this reflect his personality?

He has a broken back. He has a very messed up view on life. HAS A CROOKED VIEW ON LIFE!!!!

Assignments Lindsay Clare Matsumura,2005 Research indicates that the quality of classroom assignments makes a difference in student learning Moreover assignment quality varies between teachers even within the same school and there is room for improvement in many of the assignments that teachers provide to students Assignment quality as described in this book puts into practice powerful research based concepts for teaching To support teachers in developing reflecting on and fine tuning the assignments they create this book presents a series of dimensions or rubrics with benchmark examples from elementary middle and high school classrooms The purpose of these rubrics is to serve as diagnostic tools to assess the strengths and weaknesses of an assignment as well as to guide the creation of new assignments for students Questions also are included at the end of every chapter to guide reflection on a specific dimension of assignment quality Topics cover Choosing the right text Setting clear and rigorous learning goals Developing an assignment activity that gives students a chance to apply complex thinking skills Developing clear and rigorous grading criteria Communicating the expectations for high quality work to students Writing high quality assignment directions Providing comments that support student revision Aligning the learning goals with the assignment activity and the grading criteria Will be useful to teachers for self assessment purposes collaborative professional development settings or as a basic text in teacher education courses

Of Mice, Models, and Men Andrew N. Rowan, 1984-06-30 Too much emotion and insufficient fact This paradox has long characterized the controversy surrounding animal research Of Mice Models and Men is the first exhaustive treatment of all areas empirical and conceptual relevant to the use of animals in research It is also the first study to combine regard for the welfare of laboratory animals with a knowledgeable acceptance of the continuing need for research involving animals The book has another rare quality It is virtually devoid of any of the emotional and exaggerated attacks that have characterized many of the other publications in this area Instead it presents in a manner accessible to both sides all the relevant historical social and scientific information required to form an opinion on the subject The book thus achieves a most difficult goal that of bridging the gap between researchers using animals and animal welfare advocates while pointing out the need for a more active program to promote laboratory animal welfare Literature and Ethics in High School English Classes Ross Collin, 2024-10-17 This book offers a defence of ethical reading in secondary school English classes at a time when reformers and policy makers are trying to reorganize English language arts around technical skills or politics Ross Collin shows how students and teachers use literature as a venue for exploring their own and others ethical ideas and practices and argues that moral inquiry in English class is a distinctly social endeavour The book draws ideas from English education and moral philosophy From English education Collin explores social reading or what Louise Rosenblatt named transaction looking at texts commonly taught in secondary school English including Shakespeare's Romeo and Juliet and Jacqueline Woodson's Brown Girl Dreaming From philosophy he draws on arguments about moral vision and literature developed by Iris Murdoch Martha Nussbaum and Nora H. M. Lin and develops ideas tacit in English education about reading with moral vision He concludes by proposing a new theory of moral vision in transactional reading Middle School English Teacher's Guide to Active Learning Marc Moeller, Victor Moeller, 2013-10-30 This book shows you how you can foster reflective independent thinking in your class, boost the number of students who actively participate and prevent the discussions from falling flat or degenerating into dull sessions. This volume features 20 student-centered lesson plans and includes answer keys for teachers. Each lesson plan engages students in active learning.

Teaching English Through ELA, Mathematics, Science, and Social Studies Long Peng, 2022-07-21 Accessible and hands-on, this textbook provides a comprehensive introduction to teaching language through content, an approach known as Content-Based Language Teaching (CBLT). A content-based language-focused approach to teaching in the disciplines is essential to serving the language and disciplinary needs of English learners (ELs) in the classroom. Guided by learning standards and informed by research, this book demonstrates how content materials in the English Language Arts (ELA), Mathematics, Science, and Social Studies can be harnessed to develop the English language proficiency of ELs as well as advance their disciplinary knowledge and skills. Using content materials in ELA, Mathematics, Science, and Social Studies as a starting point, this textbook illustrates how to teach English as an additional language effectively by integrating language instruction with disciplinary teaching. It showcases numerous learning and instructional activities complete with targeted language exemplified in sentential and discourse contexts, direct instruction, teacher modeling, guided and individual practices, and assessments, which are further backed up by detailed discussions of their goals, rationales, and implementation. This textbook also features a discussion of differentiation to address the varied needs of students. To further assist readers in determining how to incorporate language instruction, Peng identifies extensive possibilities for language teaching that are based on the same content materials and beyond those targeted by sample learning activities. Each chapter ends with three types of exercises: multiple choice questions, open-ended discussion questions, and problems of application to bolster understanding, promote reflection, and encourage application. Complementing the book are additional online resources, including ready-to-use PowerPoints, which are available on the book's webpage at Routledge.com/9780367521134. Covering key issues such as characteristics of effective language instruction, differentiation, and the challenges associated with CBLT, this is an essential text in TESOL methods and content area language teaching, as well as an invaluable resource for pre-service and in-service ESL/EFL teachers and content area teachers who are interested in furthering their students' language and literacy development.

Of Mice, Men, and Microbes David R. Harper, Andrea S. Meyer, 1999-06-28 In May 1993, a cluster of cases of a lethal disease among healthy young people brought the attention of the world to the southwestern deserts. A previously unknown disease was killing up to 80% of the people it infected. The reaction in the area and across the nation mixed fear, lack of information, and the struggles of doctors to save the victims of an unknown killer with hard science and the age-old rhythms of the desert. What came out was the story of a virus that had been killing since man arrived in the American continent, Hantavirus, with deadly relatives across the Americas and across the world. This book explains why and how the virus kills and why it is still killing today Why all of the science aimed at a virus identified back in 1993 has not brought a vaccine or a cure is part of the story as is how that killer virus fits into the story of new diseases across the world The story of hantavirus disease what has happened since that first outbreak and what the real risks are is laid out by an experienced scientist and an award winning journalist living and working in the area of the 1993 outbreak Covers the full story of the recent hantavirus outbreak Includes interviews with survivors and local reaction Presents the science in lay terms Places the event in the broader context of emerging diseases worldwide The only account which takes the reader beyond the initial outbreak in 1993 1994 bringing them up to late 1998 Discusses hantavirus disease in the U S Argentina and Canada Foundations in Microbiology' 2007 Ed.(sixth Edition)2007 Edition , Addressing Community Priorities in Autism Research Amy Pearson,Sheena Kristine Au-Yeung,Catherine J. Crompton,Felicity Sedgewick,Andrew David Ridley Surtees,Dhanya Pillai,Craig Goodall,2022-11-09
