“Of mice and men”

Setting

“Of mice and men” is set in the Salinas Valley of Northern California, on a small working ranch. The action occurs in four specific locations: a wooded area near to Salinas River, a farmhouse on the ranch, the stable hands room on the ranch, and the main house on the ranch.
The novel takes place during the Great Depression in the 1930's, which led to a mass unemployment in America, and therefore a lot of people became migrant workers and moved from ranch to ranch in search of work.

Themes

The most prominent theme in the book would have to be the American Dream, which shows in such characters hope and desire for a better life and companionship. George and Lennie, and others on ranches and ranches, share the dream of a place of their own, and the opportunity to work for themselves and harvest what they sow, with no one to take anything from them or give them orders. This is a dream that a lot of the people in the novel share, and that causes a great deal of trouble for them. “Youse like work” you got land in the end.”

Curley's wife has already had her dream of being an actress gone from her, and now must live a life of empty hope.

Every character in the novel has their own dream of something they want to achieve, but significantly, none of the dreams come true.

Some of the other main themes that are explored in the novel are loneliness and friendship. Because of America's situation in the 1930s, a lot of people were forced to become migrant workers and live in transient life. The transient workers get caught in a trap of loneliness; they work from place to place, and therefore never stays in one place long enough to form permanent relationships. This is the reality that many of the characters live with in the novel, and therefore George and Lennie's friendship and companionship stands out as a contrast to this. George and Lennie form the centerpiece of the importance of friendship in the story, but even though they have each other, they still both are lonely in each their own ways.

The violent themes are power and violence. This theme is shown mostly through the character of Curley. He is causing his power to get respect from the other workers, and takes sadistic pleasure when one who does not get a chance.

Characters

The key characters in the novel are George and Lennie.

Lennie Lennie is a large and strong migrant worker that because of his mental disability completely
