for its criminalisation the book's focal points are the need for unsanctioned passages for people seeking asylum and the detrimental consequences of the criminalisation of people smuggling for both the facilitators and the people seeking asylum. Drawing on court verdicts and interviews with convicted facilitators and law enforcement officials in Indonesia, this book provides a unique and holistic picture of the causes, conditions, procedures and intricacies surrounding the facilitation of irregularised maritime journeys between Indonesia and Australia covering almost four decades. It scrutinises the micro-level operational and place-specific characteristics of people smuggling and the consequences of anti-people smuggling policies in Indonesia and relates those consequences to changes in the macro-environment which include relevant legal, political, social and economic factors that determine the overarching conditions of irregularised mobility. Compared to other states in the Global North, Australia has claimed to be more successful with its comprehensive approach to eliminate unsanctioned migration at sea by combining punitive, communicative, preventive and interceptive measures. This book challenges key achievements and objectives in regard to criminalising the facilitation of irregularised migration by foregrounding the many negative side effects that have emanated from stopping the boats. The book will be of interest to researchers in the fields of anthropology and sociology, law and criminology, Asia-Pacific Studies, Southeast Asian Studies and international migration.

Investigating Corruption in the Afghan Police Force Danny Singh, 2020-08-05. Based on unprecedented empirical research conducted with lower levels of the Afghan police, this unique study assesses how institutional legacy and external intervention from countries including the UK and the US have shaped the structural conditions of corruption in the police force and the state. Taking a social constructivist approach, the book combines an in-depth analysis of internal political, cultural and economic drivers with references to several regime changes affecting policing and security from the Soviet occupation and Mujahidin militias to Taliban religious police. Crossing disciplinary boundaries, Singh offers an invaluable contribution to the literature and to anti-corruption policy in developing and conflict-affected societies. The SAGE Handbook of Global Policing Ben Bradford, Beatrice Jauregui, Ian Loader, Jonny Steinberg, 2016-07-14. The SAGE Handbook of Global Policing examines and critically retraces the field of policing studies by posing and exploring a series of fundamental questions to do with the concept and institutions of policing and their relation to social and political life in today's globalized world. The volume is structured in the following four parts: Part One: Lenses; Part Two: Social and Political Order; Part Three: Legacies; Part Four: Problems and Problematics. By bringing new lines of vision and new voices to the social analysis of policing and by clearly demonstrating why policing matters, the Handbook will be an essential tool for anyone in the field.

Understanding Police Intelligence Work Adrian James, 2016-04-27. Although police intelligence is becoming increasingly reliant on technology, it remains a human activity. This is the first textbook to offer a comprehensive and up-to-date account of police intelligence work based on current research and to assess how intelligence may be used wisely and ethically to influence policing policy and practice. After explaining the basic tenets of intelligence, the author, who has extensive experience in the field critically examines the development of intelligence structures and governance of contemporary intelligence collection. He goes on to assess the threats and opportunities to policing in the digital age including the widespread use of social media and the emergence of Big Data. Part of a new series for students and practitioners designed to reflect the importance of incorporating evidence based policing within the curriculum and practice, this much needed textbook covers not only the technical aspects of intelligence work but also encourages reflexivity in practice. Police

Funding, Dark Money, and the Greedy Institution Randy K. Lippert, Kevin Walby, 2022-05-05. Police Funding, Dark Money and the Greedy Institution is about a pervasive but little studied phenomenon. Private funding of public police entails private entities sending resources to police through unconventional or hidden channels, sometimes for suspect reasons. The book argues police acquisition of this dark money befits the notion of a greedy institution that pursues resources beyond ample public funding and needs and seeks ever more loyal members beyond its traditional boundaries to reproduce itself. The book focuses on private police foundations, corporate sponsorships and paid detail arrangements primarily in North America, how these funding networks operate and are framed for audiences and the forms and volumes of capital they generate. Based on interviews with police representatives, sponsors, funders and foundation representatives as well as records from over 100 police departments, this book examines key issues in private funding of public police including corporatization, accountability, corruption and the rule of law. It documents and analyzes the troubling explosion of police foundations and sponsors and corporate paid detail brokers unknown to the public as a social and policy issue and a hidden response to the global police defunding movement. The book also considers potential policy responses and community safety alternatives in a more generous society. An accessible and compelling read, students and scholars in criminology, criminal justice, law, sociology, political science, anthropology, geography as well as policymakers will find this timely book revealing of a neglected growing area of police practice spanning multiple themes and jurisdictions. Procedural Justice and the Fair Trial in Contemporary Chinese Criminal Justice Elisa Nesossi, Susan Trevaskes, 2018-09-04. This review examines the literature on procedural justice and the fair trial over the past two decades in the People's Republic of China. Part 1 gives a wide angle view of the key political events and developments that have shaped the experience of procedural justice and the fair trial in contemporary China. It provides a storyline that explains the political environment in which these concepts have developed over time. Part 2 examines how scholars understand the legal structures of the criminal process in relation to China's political culture. Part 3 presents scholarly views on three enduring problems relating to the fair trial: a presumption of innocence, interrogational torture and the role of lawyers in the criminal trial process. Procedural justice is a particularly pertinent issue today in China because Xi Jinping's yifa zhiguo governing the nation in accordance with the law governance platform seeks to embed a greater appreciation for procedural justice in criminal justice decision making to correct a politico-legal tradition overwhelmingly focused on substantive justice. Overall, the literature reviewed in this article points to the serious limitations in overcoming the politico legal barriers to justice reforms that remain intact in the system despite nearly four decades of constant reform

Conflict and Concord Christopher Isike,Efe Mary Isike,2022-05-10 The book is a response to the dominant discourse of South Africa as unwelcoming to African immigrants Acknowledging the reality of xenophobia against African migrants in South Africa it explores the positive spaces of interactions between South Africans and African migrants that do not necessarily result in tension Hence the book is about conviviality cohabitation interdependency and the production of a multicultural rainbow nation South Africa its constitution and representation as a multicultural society is the perfect context to experiment with the ideas in the book Part of the objectives is therefore to demonstrate as contained in the title the ambivalence of this relationship which the popular discourse of xenophobia has silenced

The UN Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities in Practice Lisa Waddington,Anna Lawson,2018-05-24 Introduced in 2008 the UN Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities has existed for nearly a decade This comprehensive study examines how courts in thirteen different jurisdictions make use of the Convention The first sustained comparative international law analysis of the CRPD Waddington and Lawsons ground breaking text illuminates the intersection between human rights law disability law and international law through an examination of the role of courts The first part of the book contains chapters specific to each jurisdiction The second part consists of comparative chapters which draw on the rich analysis of the jurisdiction specific chapters These chapters reflect on emerging patterns of judicial usage and interpretation of the CRPD and on the wider implications for human rights theory and the nascent field of international comparative human rights law This volume is a vital and thought provoking addition to the literature on comparative international law and disability rights

Hague Yearbook of International Law / Annuaire de La Haye de Droit International, Vol. 27 (2014) Ruth Bonnevalle-Kok,Jure Vidmar,2017-06-01 The aim of the Hague Yearbook of International Law is to offer a platform for review of new developments in the field of international law In addition it devotes attention to developments in the international law institutions based in the international City of Peace and Justice The Hague As of the 2010 Volume the Yearbook has been compiled by a new and expanded Editorial Board offering fresh ideas and a new approach A newly established Advisory Board has also been added including leading judges practitioners and scholars Sections have been created on public international law private international law international investment law and international criminal law containing in depth articles on current issues The breadth of the Yearbook s content thus offers an interesting and valuable illustration of the dynamic developments in the various sub areas of international law

The Politics of Policing in Greater China Sonny Shiu-Hing Lo,2016-11-21 This book examines the politics of policing in Greater China including mainland China Taiwan Hong Kong and Macao As the author shows police ideological indoctrination is strongest in mainland China followed by Hong Kong and Taiwan where the police is under increasing political stress in the aftermath of rising public protests and socio political movements Macao s police on the other hand is far less politicized and indoctrinated than their mainland Chinese counterpart This book demonstrates that policing in China is a distinctive and extensive topic as it involves not only crime control but also crisis management and protest control governance and corruption or anti corruption the management of customs and immigration the control over legal and illegal migrants the transfer of criminals and extradition and intergovernmental police cooperation and coordination As economic integration is increasing rapidly in Greater China this region s policing deserves special attention
