The Unification of the Arts Steven Brown,2021-11-25 What are the arts What functions do the arts serve in human life There has been a surge of cognitive biological and evolutionary interest in the arts in recent years most of it oriented towards individual artforms However there has been virtually no bridging work to integrate the arts under a single theoretical perspective This book presents the first integrated cognitive account of the arts that unites visual art theatre literature dance and music into a single framework with supporting discussions about creativity and aesthetics Its comparative approach identifies both what is unique to each artform and what they share shedding light on how the arts can combine with one another to form syntheses such as choreographing dance movements to music or setting lyrics to music to create a song While studies in the psychology of the arts tend to focus on perceptual processes and aesthetic responses alone this book offers a holistic sensorimotor account that examines the full gamut of processes from creation to perception This allows for a broad discussion of the evolution of the arts including the origins of rhythm the co evolution of music and language the evolution of drawing and cultural evolution of the arts Finally the book unifies a number of topics that have not previously been fully related to one another including theatre and literature music and language creativity and aesthetics dancing and acting and visual art and music A unique volume providing a bold new approach to the integration of the arts for academics or general readers of the arts psychology cognitive neuroscience anthropology and evolutionary studies

Convict Tattoos Simon Barnard, 2016-08-29 At least thirty seven per cent of male convicts and fifteen per cent of female convicts were tattooed by the time they arrived in the penal colonies making Australians quite possibly the world's most heavily tattooed English speaking people of the nineteenth century Each convict's details including their tattoos were recorded when they disembarked providing an extensive physical account of Australia's convict men and women Simon Barnard has meticulously combed through those records to reveal a rich pictorial history Convict Tattoos explores various aspects of tattooing from the symbolism of tattoo motifs to inking methods from their use as means of identification and control to expressions of individualism and defiance providing a fascinating glimpse of the lives of the people behind the records Simon Barnard was born and grew up in Launceston He spent a lot of time in the bush as a boy which led to an interest in Tasmanian history He is a writer illustrator and collector of colonial artifacts He now lives in Melbourne He won the Eve Pownall Award for Information Books in the 2015 Children's Book Council of Australia's Book of the Year awards for his first book A Z of Convicts in Van Diemen's Land Convict Tattoos is his second book The early years of penal settlement have been recounted many times yet Convict Tattoos genuinely breaks new ground by examining a common if neglected feature of convict culture found among both male and female prisoners Australian This niche subject has proved fertile ground for Barnard who is ink free by providing a glimpse into the lives of the people behind the historical records revealing something of their thoughts feelings and experiences Mercury The best thing to happen in Australian tattoo history since Cook landed A must have for any tattoo historian Brett Stewart Australian Tattoo Museum

The Global Code Clotaire Rapaille, 2025-09-23 For decades Clotaire Rapaille's work focused on how people's relationships with the most important concepts in their lives love health and money for instance are guided by subconscious cultural messages But recently he has uncovered a new phenomenon a global unconscious or core values and feelings that are consistent worldwide the result of our constant interconnectedness He has also identified a new group who are paving the way for the future of decision making the Global Tribe These individuals are fluent in the language of culture untied to any notion of nationalism or ideology They are defining the key values driving our new world economy with profound implications for how companies market their products and services Rapaille takes us on a journey through China Brazil India England and everywhere in between to discover the new standards for luxury pleasure technology and education How can elite brands compete in a world of knockoffs How can universities maintain their prestige when a cheap master's degree or doctorate is only a click away We must speak the language of the Global Tribe in order to succeed Building on seven years of research Rapaille analyzes how this new mindset has taken hold in various regions and how marketers and service providers can tailor their offerings and marketing accordingly The Global Code is an invaluable glimpse at how our new multi sphere world is affecting us all
