Recruitment and Retention of Health Care Professionals in the Nordic Countries Nordic Council of Ministers, 2014-09-17

The demographic trends and financial constraints in the Nordic countries and all over Europe are posing challenges especially in the health care sectors. The rising number of elderly with new diseases as well as new technology and inventions create a growing demand for health care services and health care personnel. The aim of this report is to establish a clearer picture of the challenges in the future health care sectors in the Nordic countries especially in terms of lack of health care personnel and the strategies and initiatives implemented for recruitment and retention of personnel.

Graduate Careers in Context Ciaran Burke, Fiona Christie, 2018-07-11 In a world where there are increasing concerns about graduate underemployment and likely career trajectories it is not surprising that there is a significant body of literature examining graduate careers in post industrial societies. However it has become increasingly evident in recent years that there is a stark disconnect between academics who research employment and education and careers and employability professionals. Graduate Careers in Context brings these two separate groups together for the first time in order to provide a better understanding of graduate careers. The book addresses the problems surrounding the graduate labour market and its relationship to higher education and public policy. Drawing on varied perspectives the contributors provide a comprehensive examination of issues such as geography mobility and employability before presenting and discussing the benefits of future collaboration between practitioners and academic researchers. The interdisciplinary focus of this book will make it of great interest to academics researchers and postgraduate students in the areas of education sociology social policy business studies and career guidance and coaching. It should also be essential reading for practitioners who wish to consider their role and responsibilities within the changing higher education market.
