Race and the Wild West Laura J. Arata, 2020-07-02 Winner of the Western Writers of America SPUR Award and the Western Association of Women Historians Gita Chaudhuri Prize Born a slave in eastern Tennessee Sarah Blair Bickford 1852 1931 made her way while still a teenager to Montana Territory where she settled in the mining boomtown of Virginia City Race and the Wild West is the first full length biography of this remarkable woman whose life story affords new insight into race and belonging in the American West around the turn of the twentieth century For many years Sarah Bickford s known biography fit into a single paragraph By examining her life in all its complexity Arata fills in what were long believed to be unrecoverable silent spaces in her story Before establishing herself as a successful business owner we learn she was twice married both times to white men Her first husband an Irish immigrant physically abused her until she divorced him in 1881 Their three children all died before the age of ten In 1883 she married Stephen Bickford and gave birth to four more children Upon his death she inherited his shares of the Virginia City Water Company acquiring sole ownership in 1917 For the final decade of her life Bickford actively preserved and promoted a historic Virginia City building best known as the site of the brutal lynching in 1864 of five men Her conspicuous role in developing an early form of heritage tourism challenges long standing narratives that place white men at the center of the Wild West myth and its promotion Bickford s story offers a window into the dynamics of race in the rural West Although her experiences defy easy categorization what is clear is that her navigation of social norms and racial barriers did not hinge on exceptionalism or tokenism Instead she built a life that deserves to be understood on its own terms Through exhaustive research and nuanced analysis Laura J Arata advances our understanding of a woman whose life embodied the contradictory intersections of hope and disappointment that characterized life in the early twentieth century American West for brave pioneers of many races
