

Patient Interview Reflection Paper 2

Overall, I believe I saw improvement in the standardized patient interview. This interview had a new aspect introduced of motivational interviewing. I was able to exhibit the skills important in interviewing and communication. I began the interview with rapport building by greeting the patient with my name and asking the patient how her day was. I then structured the interview by telling the patient what would occur during the appointment. I did ask the patient's main concern but do believe that I could have worked on asking the patient about their health values and beliefs more to get a more comprehensive background of the patient. In regard to nonverbal communication, I maintained a comfortable distance from the patient and maintained eye contact while facing the patient directly. The patient did say in the feedback session that they felt that I appeared interested in what the patient said and cared for her. She also perceived the empathy that I expressed. As far as word choice, I deliberately avoided jargon and attempted to use appropriate language. I do believe I could improve on the area of asking for understanding of the patient.

Reflecting on my motivational interviewing skills, there are areas of improvement I can work on. I attempted to use open-ended questions but could certainly incorporate more open-ended questions. I used a few affirmations acknowledging the patient's willpower to stop smoking. I believe I could have also used more affirmations. I reflected
