Policy-Making in the GCC Neil Quilliam, Mark C. Thompson, 2017-09-11 The GCC is a major player in the post 2011 reordering of the Middle East Despite the rise in prominence of individual Gulf states especially Kuwait Qatar Saudi Arabia and the United Arab Emirates and the growth of the GCC as a collective entity surprisingly little attention has been paid to the actual mechanics of policy making in the region This book analyses the vital role that institutions are coming to play in shaping policy in the Gulf Arab states The research coincides with two key developments that have given institutions new importance in the policy process the emergence of a new generation of leaders in the Gulf and the era of low oil prices Both developments along with dramatic demographic change have compelled state and citizens to re evaluate the nature of the social contract that binds them together Contributors assess the changing relationship between state and citizen and evaluate the role that formal and informal institutions play in mediating such change and informing policy The book shows how academic social and economic institutions are responding to the increasingly complex process of decision making where citizens demand better services and further empowerment and states are obliged to seek wider counsel although wanting to retain ultimate authority With contributions from both academics and practitioners this book will be highly relevant for researchers and policymakers alike

Werner, 2016-03-11 This book is devoted to the modeling and understanding of complex urban systems This second volume of Understanding Complex Urban Systems focuses on the challenges of the modeling tools concerning e.g. the quality and quantity of data and the selection of an appropriate modeling approach It is meant to support urban decision makers including municipal politicians spatial planners and citizen groups in choosing an appropriate modeling approach for their particular modeling requirements The contributors to this volume are from different disciplines but all share the same goal optimizing the representation of complex urban systems They present and discuss a variety of approaches for dealing with data availability problems and finding appropriate modeling approaches and not only in terms of computer modeling The selection of articles featured in this volume reflect a broad variety of new and established modeling approaches such as An argument for using Big Data methods in conjunction with Agent based Modeling The introduction of a participatory approach involving citizens in order to utilize an Agent based Modeling approach to simulate urban growth scenarios A presentation of semantic modeling to enable a flexible application of modeling methods and a flexible exchange of data An article about a nested systems approach to analyzing a city's interdependent subsystems according to these subsystems' different velocities of change. An article about methods that use Luhmann's system theory to characterize cities as systems that are composed of flows. An article that demonstrates how the Sen-Nussbaum Capabilities Approach can be used in urban systems to measure household well-being shifts that occur in response to the resettlement of urban households. A final article that illustrates how Adaptive Cycles of Complex Adaptive Systems as well as innovation can be applied to gain a better understanding of cities and to promote more resilient and more sustainable urban futures.

Interest in Mathematics and Science Learning

Ann Renninger, Martina Nieswandt, Suzanne Hidi, 2015-04-19. Interest in Mathematics and Science Learning edited by K. Ann Renninger, Martin Nieswandt and Suzanne Hidi is the first volume to assemble findings on the role of interest in mathematics and science learning. As the contributors illuminate across the volume's 22 chapters, interest provides a critical bridge between cognition and affect in learning and development. This volume will be useful to educators, researchers, and policy makers, especially those whose focus is mathematics, science, and technology education.

Born to Choose John H.

Falk, 2017-09-05. Born to Choose is John H. Falk's compelling account of why and how we make the endless set of choices we do every second of every day of our lives. Synthesizing research from across the biological and social sciences, Falk argues that human choice making is an evolutionarily ancient and complex process. He suggests that all our choices are influenced by very basic and early evolving needs and that ultimately each choice is designed to support survival in the guise of perceived well-being. This engaging book breaks new intellectual ground and enhances our understanding not just of human choice making but human behavior overall.

Health Informatics - E-Book Ramona Nelson, Nancy Staggers, 2016-12-08

Awarded second place in the 2017 AJN Book of the Year Awards in the Information Technology category. See how information technology intersects with health care. Health Informatics: An Interprofessional Approach, 2nd Edition prepares you for success in today's technology-filled healthcare practice. Concise coverage includes information systems and applications such as electronic health records, clinical decision support, telehealth, ePatients, and social media tools, as well as system implementation. New to this edition are topics including data science and analytics, mHealth, principles of project management, and contract negotiations. Written by expert informatics educators Ramona Nelson and Nancy Staggers, this edition enhances the book that won a 2013 American Journal of Nursing Book of the Year award. Experts from a wide range of health disciplines cover the latest on the interprofessional aspects of informatics, a key Quality and Safety Education for Nurses (QSEN) initiative and a growing specialty area in nursing.
