Cyprus Bail-in, The: Policy Lessons From The Cyprus Economic Crisis Alexander Michaelides, Athanasios Orphanides, 2016-02-29 On June 28th 2012 the small island of Cyprus became the fifth government to request an economic bail out from the Eurozone after losing access to international capital markets Less than a year later a 10 billion second rescue deal was agreed upon an unprecedented agreement that bailed in creditors of Cyprus two largest banks and triggered an economic crisis that the nation still struggles to recover from today This resourceful collection of essays provides a thorough and in depth analysis of how Cyprus reached the point of failure and what lessons this experience holds for future economic crises The various perspectives collectively address unanswered questions including whether the bail in can be considered successful why the recession was less severe than expected and what conclusions can be drawn about stress testing exercises across borders Focusing on one of the proportionately largest crises in financial history the case study will prove essential to policy makers and politicians especially in the euro area

Enabling the Internet of Things Massimo Alioto, 2017-01-23 This book offers the first comprehensive view on integrated circuit and system design for the Internet of Things IoT and in particular for the tiny nodes at its edge The authors provide a fresh perspective on how the IoT will evolve based on recent and foreseeable trends in the semiconductor industry highlighting the key challenges as well as the opportunities for circuit and system innovation to address them This book describes what the IoT really means from the design point of view and how the constraints imposed by applications translate into integrated circuit requirements and design guidelines Chapter contributions equally come from industry and academia After providing a system perspective on IoT nodes this book focuses on state of the art design techniques for IoT applications encompassing the fundamental sub systems encountered in Systems on Chip for IoT ultra low power digital architectures and circuits low and zero leakage memories including emerging technologies circuits for hardware security and authentication System on Chip design methodologies on chip power management and energy harvesting ultra low power analog interfaces and analog digital conversion short range radios miniaturized battery technologies packaging and assembly of IoT integrated systems on silicon and non silicon substrates As a common thread all chapters conclude with a prospective view on the foreseeable evolution of the related technologies for IoT The concepts developed throughout the book are exemplified by two IoT node system demonstrations from industry The unique balance between breadth and depth of this book enables expert readers quickly to develop an understanding of the specific challenges and state of the art solutions for IoT as well as their evolution in the foreseeable future provides non experts with a comprehensive introduction to integrated circuit design for IoT and serves as an excellent starting point for further learning thanks to the broad coverage of topics and selected references makes it very well suited for practicing engineers and scientists working in the hardware and chip design for IoT and as textbook for senior undergraduate graduate and postgraduate students familiar with analog and digital circuits

Reducing Fuel Consumption and Greenhouse Gas Emissions of Medium- and Heavy-Duty Vehicles, Phase Two National Academies of Sciences, Engineering, and Medicine, Transportation Research Board, Division on Engineering and Physical Sciences, Board on Energy and Environmental Systems, Committee on Assessment of Technologies and Approaches for Reducing the Fuel Consumption of Medium- and Heavy-Duty Vehicles, Phase Two, 2020-05-15 Medium and heavy duty trucks motor coaches and transit buses collectively medium and heavy duty vehicles or MHDVs are used in every sector of the economy The fuel consumption and greenhouse gas emissions of MHDVs have become a focus of legislative and regulatory action in the past few years This study is a follow on to the National Research Council's 2010 report Technologies and Approaches to Reducing the Fuel Consumption of Medium and Heavy Duty Vehicles That report provided a series of findings and recommendations on the development of regulations for reducing fuel consumption of MHDVs On September 15 2011 NHTSA and EPA finalized joint Phase I rules to establish a comprehensive Heavy Duty National Program to reduce greenhouse gas emissions and fuel consumption for on road medium and heavy duty vehicles As NHTSA and EPA began working on a second round of standards the National Academies issued another report Reducing the Fuel Consumption and Greenhouse Gas Emissions of Medium and Heavy Duty Vehicles Phase Two First Report providing recommendations for the Phase II standards This third and final report focuses on a possible third phase of regulations to be promulgated by these agencies in the next decade

Strategically important metals Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Science and Technology Committee, 2011-05-17 Although most strategic metal reserves are unlikely to run out over the coming decades the perception of scarcity of certain minerals and metals may lead to increased speculation and volatility in price and supply Strategically important metals are vital to advanced manufacturing low carbon technologies and other growing industries and the Government should provide reliable information on potential resource risks in a coordinated and coherent way The UK also exports large quantities of scrap metal and waste electrical and electronic equipment WEEE often to developing countries This metal not only is a potential resource for the UK but it is also an example of the UK exporting its environmental problems elsewhere There are also concerns about the illegal export of WEEE which is often labelled as second hand equipment for re use and calls for safeguards to be put in place Despite a rate of 90% by weight metal recycling in the UK it is of great concern that some strategic metals are likely to be lost in the 10% not being recycled The report recommends Improving existing legislation to ensure companies implement requirements on reporting non financial information such as human rights and health and safety issues an evaluation by the Government of the potential for introducing similar legislation to that in the US whereby companies are required to produce detailed reports on conflict minerals that they use This report also brings the alleged activities of large dealers on the London Metals Exchange to the attention of the Office of Fair Trading Finally the report looks at domestic extraction and says planning regulations should not unnecessarily restrict the use of significant potential reserves and that domestic mining could alleviate risks associated with sourcing metals from external supply monopolies In parallel the Government has to invest in research to ensure that future domestic mining has the least possible environmental impact
