Applying Design Thinking to the Measurement of Experiential Learning Peck, Adam,DeSawal, Danielle,2021-06-25 In the field of student affairs many are rethinking the value of a wide variety of traditional aspects associated with the student experience Recent commentary has questioned whether students should attend college that has an all inclusive tuition focused primarily upon academic and support services Given the need for changes the COVID 19 pandemic has created it is imperative to question whether this kind of academic package is ideal for the future of higher education As issues surrounding the traditional aspects of the student experience continue to develop research has begun to focus on how student learning and awareness can be improved specifically within the principles of design thinking Applying Design Thinking to the Measurement of Experiential Learning is a forward thinking and innovative look at assessment and design conditions that promote student learning It proposes new models for education conditions for student learning and student learning assessment using design thinking and experiential learning These topics include adjustments to curriculum integrated learning environments student success and student affairs campus wide design thinking and testing assessments This book is valuable for senior leaders in the field of student affairs student affairs assessment professionals and faculty teaching in higher education programs practitioners researchers academicians and students interested in how the principles of design thinking can be applied to higher education

The Erotic Bird Maurice Natanson, 2021-09-14 How does literature illuminate the way we live Maurice Natanson a prominent champion of phenomenology draws upon this method's unique power to show how fiction can highlight aspects of experience that are normally left unexamined By exploring the structure of the everyday world Natanson reveals the uncanny that lies at the core of the ordinary Phenomenology which involves the questioning of that which we usually take for granted is for Natanson the essence of philosophy Drawing upon his philosophical predecessors Edmund Husserl Alfred Schutz and Jean Paul Sartre Natanson paves his own way with stories and examples that themselves bear witness to how phenomenology occurs in literature In considering such works as Samuel Beckett's Waiting for Godot Thomas Mann's The Magic Mountain and Franz Kafka's The Metamorphosis Natanson shows how literature opens us to the domain of possibility and how metaphor offers philosophical power when we think about freedom and change This book written by one of the twentieth century's leading phenomenologists will interest students in philosophy and in literature They will value the work particularly for its clarification of concepts and terms that frequently emerge in the contemporary intellectual climate

Mental Health Crisis in Higher Education Aloka, Peter, 2023-12-29 The COVID 19 pandemic brought about a sudden transition from traditional face to face instruction to online and blended learning The repercussions of this seismic change have left an indelible mark on students particularly those thrust into the challenging realm of fully engaging in online learning during this tumultuous period As we navigate the delicate landscape of higher education post pandemic a critical gap in scholarly literature becomes glaringly apparent there is a scarcity of focused works addressing the nuanced well being of students in this new academic reality Mental Health Crisis in Higher Education is a groundbreaking book that boldly steps into this void offering a comprehensive and meticulously researched examination of the challenges faced by students transitioning from secondary to higher education amid the pandemic By delving into stressors coping mechanisms and the intricate web of factors influencing emotional psychological and physical well being the book is an invaluable resource for academics researchers and institutions seeking to understand and address the multifaceted dimensions of student well being The Plurality of Power Sarah Cowie, 2011-02-15 How do people experience power within capitalist societies Research presented here explicitly addresses the notion of pluralistic power which encompasses both productive and oppressive forms of power and acknowledges that nuanced and multifaceted power relations can exist in combination with binary dynamics such as domination and resistance This volume addresses growing interests in linking past and present power relationships engendered by capitalism and in conducting historical archaeology as anthropology The Plurality of Power Industrial Capitalism and the Nineteenth Century Company Town of Fayette Michigan explores the subtle distribution of power within American industrial capitalism through a case study of a company town Issues surrounding power and agency are explored in regard to three heuristic categories of power In the first category the company imposed a system of structural class based power that is most visible in hierarchical differences in pay and housing as well as consumer behavior A second category addresses disciplinary activities surrounding health and the human body as observed in the built environment medical artifacts disposal patterns of industrial waste incidence of intestinal parasites and unequal access to healthcare The third ensemble of power relations is heterarchical and entwined with non economic capital social symbolic and cultural Individuals and groups drew upon different forms of capital to bolster social status and express identity both within and apart from the corporate hierarchy The goal in combining these diverse ideas is to explore the plurality of power relationships in past industrial contexts and to assert their relevance in the anthropology of capitalism Building Organizational Memories: Will You Know What You Knew? Girard, John P., 2009-03-31 Provides relevant theoretical frameworks latest empirical research findings and practitioners best practices in the area of organizational memory Doing Practitioner Research Differently Marion Dadds, Susan Hart, 2002-11-01 Doing Practitioner Research Differently encourages those embarking on practitioner research to consider the validity of innovative methods and styles of reporting The book looks at three methods of enquiry and reporting visualisation conversation and fictional writing Using practitioners own accounts and research reports as case studies this book explores the reasons why some practitioners reject the traditional research methods It looks at the challenges faced by these practitioners and the conditions in higher education that encourage or inhibit innovative practitioner research The case studies used illustrate that there are modes of enquiry and reporting that can foster the development of professional thinking and practice Current Topics in Children's Learning and Cognition Heidi Kloos, Bradley Morris, Joseph Amaral, 2012-11-14 As a whole the essays in this book address theoretical and empirical issues related to children's learning and cognition The first essay titled Learning in Cognitive Niches treats the process of sense making on a theoretical level discussing the complexity of factors that give rise to children's learning It is followed by an essay titled Using the Dynamics of a Person Context System to Describe Children s Understanding of Air Pressure that applies ideas from complexity science and dynamics systems theory to children s learning about science The next four essays summarize and synthesize already published findings in an effort to go beyond individual viewpoints and present a more nuanced picture of children s sense making In particular two of these summaries Preschoolers Learning Science Myth or Reality and The Emergence of Scientific Reasoning focus on children s ability to make sense of their physical environment The essay Cognition and the Child Witness Understanding the Impact of Cognitive Development in Forensic Contexts seeks to shed light on children s sense making relevant to forensic issues And the essay Beyond the Black and White of Autism How Cognitive Performance Varies with Context ventures in the area of autism a disorder that demonstrates atypical processes of combining pieces of information The final two essays provide original data to add to the discussion of what factors affect cognitive functioning In particular the essay Cognitive Fitness in Young Adult Video Game Players seeks to re assess the often assumed relation between video gaming and various aspects of thinking memory intelligence and visual spatial abilities And the essay Impact of Moving Away from Home on Undergraduate Metacognitive Development explicitly connects life circumstances to the ability to monitor and control one s thinking Together the collection of essays are a further step towards understanding the process of sense making as children and young adults interact with their environment Reflective
