Review of Progress in Quantitative Nondestructive Evaluation Donald O. Thompson, Dale E. Chimenti, 2012-12-06 These Proceedings consisting of Parts A and B contain the edited versions of most of the papers presented at the annual Review of Progress in Quantitative Nondestructive Evaluation held at Snowmass Village Colorado on July 31 to August 4 1994 The Review was organized by the Center for NDE at Iowa State University in cooperation with the Ames Laboratory of the US DOE the Materials Directorate of the Wright Laboratory Wright Patterson Air Force Base the American Society of Nondestructive Testing the Department of Energy the National Institute of Standards and Technology the Federal Aviation Administration the National Science Foundation Industry University Cooperative Research Centers and the Working Group in Quantitative NDE This year's Review of Progress in QNDE was attended by approximately 450 participants from the U S and many foreign countries who presented over 360 papers The meeting was divided into 36 sessions with as many as four sessions running concurrently The Review covered all phases of NDE research and development from fundamental investigations to engineering applications or inspection systems and it included many important methods of inspection science from acoustics to x rays In the last eight to ten years the Review has stabilized at about its current size which most participants seem to agree is large enough to permit a full scale overview of the latest developments but still small enough to retain the collegial atmosphere which has marked the Review since its inception

Sewer of Progress Cindy McCulligh, 2023-07-25 A creative and comprehensive exploration of the institutional forces undermining the management of environments critical to public health For almost two decades the citizens of Western Mexico have called for a cleanup of the Santiago River a water source so polluted it emanates an overwhelming acidic stench Toxic clouds of foam lift off the river in a strong wind In Sewer of Progress Cindy McCulligh examines why industrial dumping continues in the Santiago despite the corporate embrace of social responsibility and regulatory frameworks intended to mitigate environmental damage The fault she finds lies in a disingenuous discourse of progress and development that privileges capitalist growth over the health and well being of ecosystems Rooted in research on institutional behavior and corporate business practices Sewer of Progress exposes a type of regulatory greenwashing that allows authorities to deflect accusations of environmental dumping while regulated dumping continues in an environment of legal certainty For transnational corporations this type of simulation allows companies to take advantage of double standards in environmental regulations while presenting themselves as socially responsible and green global actors Through this inversion the Santiago and other rivers in Mexico have become sewers for urban and industrial waste Institutionalized corruption a concept McCulligh introduces in the book is the main culprit a system that permits and normalizes environmental degradation specifically in the creation and enforcement of a regulatory framework for wastewater discharge that prioritizes private interests over the common good Through a research paradigm based in institutional ethnography and political ecology Sewer of Progress provides a critical in depth look at the power

Real-World Applications of Evolutionary Computing Stefano Cagnoni,Riccardo Poli,George D. Smith,David Corne,Martin Oates,Emma Hart,Pier L. Lanzi,Egbert J. Willem,Yun Li,Ben Paechter,Terence C. Fogarty,2000-03-29 The increasingly active field of Evolutionary Computation EC provides valuable tools inspired by the theory of natural selection and genetic inheritance to problem solving machine learning and optimization in many real world applications Despite some early intuitions about EC that can be dated back to the invention of computers and a better formal definition of EC made in the 1960s the quest for real world applications of EC only began in the late 1980s The dramatic increase in computer performances in the last decade of the 20th century gave rise to a positive feedback process EC techniques became more and more applicable stimulating the growth of interest in their study and allowing in turn new powerful EC paradigms to be devised In parallel with new theoretical results the number of fields to which EC is being applied is increasing day by day along with the complexity of applications and application domains In particular industrially relevant fields such as signal and image processing computer vision pattern recognition industrial control telecommunication scheduling and timetabling and aerospace engineering are employing EC techniques to solve complex real world problems California Cooperative Oceanic Fisheries
