Patrol In The Dreamtime:

In Denial Robert Manne, 2001-04-01 In this national bestseller Robert Manne attacks the right wing campaign against the Bringing them home report that revealed how thousands of Aboriginal children had been taken from their parents What was the role of Paddy McGuinness as editor of Quadrant How reliable was the evidence that led newspaper columnists from Piers Akerman in the Sydney Daily Telegraph to Andrew Bolt in the Melbourne Herald Sun to deny the gravity of the injustice done In a powerful indictment of past government policies towards the indigenous Australians Robert Manne has written a brilliant polemical essay which doubles as a succinct history of how indigenous Australians were mistreated and an exposure of the ignorance of those who want to deny that history In complex intellectual conflicts there will always be argument about whether the antagonists are committed to finding the truth or to winning the battle This essay tells us that Robert Manne is intent on finding the truth Morag Fraser editor Eureka Street In Denial is a work of both the head and the heart It is carefully researched and powerfully expressed It needs to be widely read The Hon P J Keating former Prime Minister of Australia

The Protectors Stephen Gray, 2011-05-16 Powerful and provocative this is a beautifully written and very personal search to understand the men who were the protectors of Aboriginal people in Australia's north their moral ambiguities their good intentions and the devastating consequences of their decisions Patrol in the Dreamtime ,1997-01-01 Eggheads and Blackfellas Gillian Cowlishaw, 2020-08-02 This lively book brings the reader close to the people from a remote cattle station in far north Australia where black and white peoples lives have been intertwined over the span of 80 years Tracing the humorous savage and ordinary ways in which race structured intimate and everyday relationships across a great divide Gillian Cowlishaw makes startling and original arguments about race relations By investigating specific patterns of interaction on Australia's cultural frontier Rednecks Eggheads and Blackfellas illustrates how anthropologists pastoralists and government officials squabbled about Aborigines as they intruded into their country controlled aspects of their lives and dominated the way they were represented in the public realm The ironic title hints that the difference between redneck pastoralists and egghead anthropologists is not so great as might be imagined Aborigines were central to the projects of both kinds of whitefellas Weaving the shifts in government policy and public opinion with accounts of their sometimes ludicrous impact on outback communities this book brings to life the complexities of living with racial categories And it asks why increasingly enlightened anti racist policies seldom seem to have worked as intended even in this era of self determination This thought provoking work will speak not only to anthropologists and those interested in Aboriginal Australia but to scholars of race more generally especially in the burgeoning field of whiteness studies Indigenous Crime and Settler Law H. Douglas, M. Finnane, 2012-08-21 In a break from the contemporary focus on the law s response to interracial crime the authors examine the law's approach to the victimization of one Indigenous person by another Drawing on a wealth of archival material relating to homicides in Australia they conclude that settlers and Indigenous peoples still live in the shadow of empire Australia'S Unthinkable Genocide Colin Tatz, 2017-04-04 We are a moral people and the very notion that Australians could have anything to do with genocide is unthinkableso claimed parliamentarians when Australia was asked to ratify the UNs Genocide Convention in 1949 The reality is that even decent democrats and people who consider themselves good colonists are capable of doing just thatkilling people because of who they were forcibly removing their children in order to assimilate them and erase them from the landscape and then in the name of their protection incarcerated them on reserves in a manner that caused them serious physical and mental harm This confronting book addresses the whole issue of what happens to an indigenous minority who were considered other than human an unworthy order of beings destined to die Violations of Trust Richard Hil, 2017-05-15 The past few decades have brought to light increasing evidence of systemic and repeated institutional abuse of children and young people in many western nations Government enquiries research studies and media reports have begun to highlight the widespread nature of sexual physical and emotional abuse of vulnerable children and young people However while public attention has focused on episodic dramatic representations of institutional abuse comparatively little emphasis has been given to the more mundane routinized and systemic nature of abuse that has occurred This book documents comprehensively a full range of abuse occurring in caring and protective institutions with particular reference to the Australian case The dominant theme is betrayal and in particular the ways in which agencies charged with the care and protection of children and young people become the sites of abusive practices The authors draw on a range of theoretical frameworks to explore issues of trust and betrayal in the context of the professional and ethical obligations which workers have to those in their charge The authors argue that it is not sufficient merely to report on accounts of institutional abuse or the consequences of particular practices rather it is necessary to locate the prevalence of institutional abuse in the wider context of institutional practices as they relate to the governance of particular Up We Grew Pamela Bone, 2004 Bone s voice has definition in an ocean of mediocre peers sections of the population Weekend Australian Up We Grew is a reflective whimsical book full of personal memories both sweet and sour Bone offers a deliciously colourful patchwork of memories carefully chosen and beautifully written Her vivid pictures come easily to life The Age Bone has the journalist's sense of looking beneath the veneer of what childhood appears to be to see what is really going on Sunday Tasmanian Resilience Why do some children in difficult circumstances seem blessed with it while others struggle to cope with life And are Australian children generally less resilient than they used to be In Up We Grew award winning journalist Pamela Bone explores the Australian childhood through the prism of her own experience as a daughter a sister and a mother Taking as her starting point her own story of growing up in a small town on the Murray River after the war Bone illuminates the influences that shape us from early life family friendships school Through interviews with Helen Coonan Max Gillies Terry Lane Mark Latham Michael Leunig Joanna Murray Smith and Natasha Stott Despoja she considers how some famous and less well known Australians coped with the death of a parent divorce difference talent opportunity money or the lack thereof Richly researched and vividly written by turns nostalgic and unblinkingly sentimental Up We Grew provides remarkable insight into how we are tempered and transformed by our childhood Crossroads of Rural Crime Alistair Harkness,Rob White,2021-05-19 Using the notion of crossroads to provide a unique lens through which to examine the realities of rural crime Crossroads of Rural Crime provides an understanding of the nature of rural life and ways in which transgression manifests itself in the context of a presumed rural urban divide The City's Outback Gillian Cowlishaw,2010-10 This honest and compelling book follows the fraught exciting and painful process of getting to know others in this case Australian Aborigines in the suburbs who are already known through shocking images and worrying statistics Gillian Cowlishaw has written a book about the intimacy of the encounter the practical and ethical dilemmas of res

Genocide of Indigenous Peoples Robert Hitchcock, 2017-09-08 An estimated 350 to 600 million indigenous people reside across the globe Numerous governments fail to recognize its indigenous peoples living within their borders It was not until the latter part of the twentieth century that the genocide of indigenous peoples became a major focus of human rights activists non governmental organizations international development and finance institutions such as the United Nations and the World Bank and indigenous and other community based organizations Scholars and activists began paying greater attention to the struggles between Fourth World peoples and First Second and Third World states because of illegal actions of nation states against indigenous peoples indigenous groups passive and active resistance to top down development and concerns about the impacts of transnational forces including what is now known as globalization This volume offers a clear message for genocide scholars and others concerned with crimes against humanity and genocide much greater attention must be paid to the plight of all peoples indigenous and otherwise no matter how small in scale how little known how invisible or hidden from view Plight and Fate of Children During and Following Genocide Samuel Totten, 2018-04-17 Plight and Fate of Children During and Following Genocide examines why and how children were mistreated during genocides in the twentieth and twenty first centuries Among the cases examined are the Australian Aboriginals the Armenian genocide the Holocaust the Mayans in Guatemala the 1994 Rwanda genocide and the genocide in Darfur Two additional chapters examine the issues of sexual and gender based violence against children and the phenomenon of child soldiers Following an introduction by Samuel Totten the essays include Australia's Aboriginal Children Hell is for Children Children The Most Vulnerable Victims of the Armenian Genocide Children and the Holocaust The Fate of Mentally and Physically Disabled Children in Nazi Germany The Plight and Fate of Children vis a vis the Guatemalan Genocide The Plight of Children During and Following the 1994 Rwandan Genocide Darfur Genocide Sexual and Gender Based Violence against Children during Genocide and Child Soldiers Contributors include Colin Tatz Henry C Theriault Asya Darbinyan Rubina Peroomian Jeffrey Blutinger Amanda Grzyb Elisa von Joeden Forgey Sara Demir Hannibal Travis and Samuel Totten The editor and several of the contributors have personally investigated and witnessed the aftermath of genocidal campaigns Broken

Circles Anna Haebich, 2000-11-01 This major work reveals the dark heart of the history of the Stolen Generations in Australia It shows that from the earliest times of European colonization Aboriginal Australians experienced the trauma of loss and separation as their children were abducted enslaved institutionalized and culturally remodeled Providing a moving and comprehensive account of this tragic history this study covers all Australian colonies states and territories The analysis spans 200 years of white occupation and intervention from the earliest seizure of Aboriginal children through their systematic state removal and incarceration and on to the harsh treatment of families under the assimilation policies of the 1950s and 1960s The resistance struggle and achievements of Aboriginal people in defending their communities regaining their rights and mending the broken circles of family life provides a compelling parallel story of determination and courage Genocide Samuel Totten, William Spencer Parsons, 2013 This title addresses examples of genocides perpetrated in the 19th 20th and 21st centuries Each chapter of the book is written by a recognized expert in the field collectively demonstrating a wide range of disciplinary perspectives Many Voices Anna Haebich, Doreen Mellor, 2002 Many voices reflections on experiences of indigenous child separation Stolen Motherhood Anne Maree Payne, 2021-05-25 The removal of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander children from their families gained national attention in Australia following the Bringing Them Home Report in 1997 However the voices of Indigenous parents were largely missing from the Report The Inquiry attributed their lack of testimony to the impact of trauma and the silencing impact of parents overwhelming sense of guilt and despair a submission by Link Up NSW commented on Aboriginal mothers being unwilling and unable to speak about the immense pain grief and anguish that losing their children had caused them This book explores what happened to Aboriginal mothers who had children removed and why they have overwhelmingly remained silent about their experiences Identifying the structural barriers to Aboriginal mothering in the Stolen Generations era the author examines how contemporary laws policies and practices increased the likelihood of Aboriginal child removal and argues that negative perceptions of Aboriginal mothering underpinned removal processes with tragic consequences. This book makes an important contribution to understanding the history of the Stolen Generations and highlights the importance of designing inclusive truth telling processes that enable a diversity of perspectives to be shared Left Right Left Robert Manne, 2005 Anyone who has read one of Robert Manne's newspaper columns or one of his powerful Quarterly Essays will find here a treasure house of thought argument and evocation The perfect book for anyone interested in the key political and cultural controversies of the past thirty years Do Police Need Guns? Richard Evans, Clare Farmer, 2020-11-20 This book challenges what are for many people deep rooted expectations regarding the routine arming of police and compares jurisdictions in which police are routinely armed Toronto Canada and Brisbane Australia and those where police are not routinely armed Manchester England and Auckland New Zealand With a focus on Western jurisdictions and by examining a range of documentary media and data sources this book provides an evidence based examination of the question Do police really need guns This book first provides detailed insight into the armed policing tradition and perceptions expectations with respect to police and firearms A range of theoretical concepts regarding policing state power and the use of force is applied to an examination of what makes the police powerful This is set against the minimum force tradition which is typified by policing in England and Wales Consideration is also given to the role played by key tropes and constructs of popular culture Drawing on Surette's model of symbolic reality the book considers contrasting media traditions and the positioning of firearms within narrative arcs especially the role of heroes The book concludes by drawing together the key themes and findings and considering the viability of retaining and or moving towards non routinely armed police APAIS 1999: Australian public affairs information service, The Chaser Dale Rice,2001-08-23 Dream time The era doesn t matter because it's all the same My evaluations could have been wrong Where is the wisdom They say there is a time for war but most want peace Happiness was always denied They test me too often Bears and tigers own the night Wealth and honor is desired In this evil world I search for knowledge Survival requires good health and strength Laughing fools are to be avoided as they study weapons of destruction They appear to deny or are unaware of eternity It's a balance between duty and morality Wickedness rules the earth Danger is ever present and I m cognizant of my morality but fear can destroy courage is necessary
