Mass Exodus Stephen Bullivant,2019-05-30 Of those raised Catholic just 13% still attend Mass weekly and 37% say they have no religion But is this all the fault of Vatican II and its runaway reforms Or are wider social cultural and moral forces primarily to blame In 1962 Pope John XXIII opened the Second Vatican Council with the prophecy that a new day is dawning on the Church bathing her in radiant splendour Desiring to impart an ever increasing vigour to the Christian life of the faithful the Council Fathers devoted particular attention to the laity and set in motion a series of sweeping reforms The most significant of these centred on refashioning the Church's liturgy the source and summit of the Christian life in order to make it pastorally efficacious to the fullest degree Over fifty years on however the statistics speak for themselves In America only 15% of cradle Catholics say that they attend Mass on a weekly basis meanwhile 35% no longer even tick the Catholic box on surveys In Britain the signs are direr still Catholicism is not the only Christian group to have suffered serious declines since the 1960s If anything Catholics exhibit higher church attendance and better retention than most Protestant churches do If Vatican II is not the cause of Catholicism's crisis might it instead be the secret to its comparative success Mass Exodus is the first serious historical and sociological study of Catholic lapsation and disaffiliation Drawing on a wide range of theological historical and sociological sources Stephen Bullivant offers a comparative study of secularization across two famously contrasting religious cultures Britain and the USA
