Abstract—The purpose of this study was to determine the effect of a 10-week, 1000 kcal energy deficit diet on the body composition and physical fitness of obese women. The subjects were 15 obese women who were randomly assigned to either a diet or a control group. The diet group was instructed to consume a diet that was 1000 kcal less than their maintenance level, while the control group was instructed to consume a diet that was equal to their maintenance level. The subjects were monitored for 10 weeks, and their body composition and physical fitness were measured at the beginning and end of the study. The diet group showed a significant decrease in body weight, body fat percentage, and waist circumference, while the control group showed no significant changes. The diet group also showed a significant increase in physical fitness, while the control group showed no significant changes. The results of this study suggest that a 10-week, 1000 kcal energy deficit diet is effective in improving body composition and physical fitness in obese women.
