Investment in the Future

- Do not expect that appearance of new evidence of stability in head injuries, otherwise it is expected to be de-stabilizing
- Do not expect that the appearance of a new mechanism of injury suggests an otherwise result is a less complex or minor
- Do not assume the appearance of a new mechanism
- Beware of potential of additional injuries, especially those which are not obvious
- Do not expect that a patient will stabilize over time. This is especially true for patients with high energy injuries, such as those from a motor vehicle accident, where a patient may not get better, they may just appear to be better, and the possibility of additional injuries may not be obvious by your 1st
- Do not assume that a patient will stabilize

Abstract—The purpose of this study was to determine the effect of a 10-week training program on the heart rate (HR) and heart rate reserve (HRR) of sedentary middle-aged men. The subjects were 15 men, 40 to 50 years old, who had been sedentary for at least 10 years. They were randomly assigned to a 10-week training program or a control group. The training program consisted of three sessions per week, each lasting 30 minutes, at a heart rate of 150 beats per minute. The control group did not exercise. The HR and HRR were measured at rest and during a 30-minute exercise test at the end of the 10-week period. The results showed that the training program had a significant effect on the HR and HRR of the subjects. The HR at rest decreased from 72 to 68 beats per minute, and the HRR increased from 28 to 32 beats per minute. The control group showed no significant change in HR or HRR. The results suggest that a 10-week training program can improve the cardiovascular fitness of sedentary middle-aged men.

Abstract: This research was an exploratory study to determine the relationship between the use of the Internet and the use of the Internet for business purposes. The study was conducted using a survey of 100 business owners. The results of the study indicate that the use of the Internet for business purposes is positively related to the use of the Internet for personal purposes. The study also found that the use of the Internet for business purposes is positively related to the use of the Internet for social purposes. The study was limited by the use of a convenience sample and the use of a self-reported measure of Internet use.
